

Kingswood Girls Attend the Opera

By PEGGY PRANCE
Special Writer

During the week that the Metropolitan Opera was in Detroit, May 29 to May 31, Kingswood students were offered the opportunity to attend the operas. Miss Bertha Seifert made arrangements for tickets and transportation.

The senior class invited the juniors to visit Senior Cabin on May 22, from 3:30 to 5:15 in the afternoon. The senior cabin is located near the school, and it is a place exclusively for the seniors to spend several leisurely afternoons.

ON WEDNESDAY the juniors saw the inside of the cabin for the first time. The two classes entertained each other with songs, and Ann Livingston and Bonnie Craig, in devised several games for the juniors. Also at the meeting the key for senior cabin was presented to Anne Clark by Kate Derwin.

On Friday, May 30, Kingswood will have K-Day, or Kingswood Day, an annual project for the end of the year.

After a picnic lunch outdoors there is a presentation of sports awards. Also that afternoon is the final play-off of the school singles tennis match, which determines the winner of the Billen Wallace Trophy.

The Samoan harbour city of Pago Pago has been a United States naval and fueling station since 1872. It is also the seat of government for the island of Taiti, one of several Samoan Islands administered by the U. S. Department of the Interior.

Best Barnum Musicians

The two winners of $50 music scholarships at Barnum Junior High School recently were Dave Wetter (left, seated) and Jeff Doane (left, standing). Runners-up were Jan Fry and Carolyn Ruffer in the contest, sponsored by Barnum Band and Orchestra Boosters.

At right is Dale Bartlett, orchestra director. The winners may use the scholarships to study at any reputable music camp or for private study. The runners-up received gift certificates good for one long-play album.

Awards Program Set at B'field Jr.

By MARCIA MOYER
Special Writer

The Honors and Awards assembly will be held June 5. The seventh grade bronze pin, the eighth grade silver, and the ninth grade gold pin will be awarded to those students who have excelled in scholarship and citizenship.

Yearbooks were passed out on Tuesday, Bermuda Day and everyone was busy collecting autographs from teachers and fellow students. The yearbook was prepared by Mr. Hossie's commercial art class.

NINTH GRADERS will have their "Crazy Day" on June 4. A prize will be awarded to the person with the funniest costume.

The ninth graders also had an assembly program given by a panel of 10th graders from Bloomfield Hills High School who discussed the extra-curricular activities which they will be able to take part in next year.

The high school band visited our school this week to give an assembly program. Their performance included selections by the full band and various instrumental groups.

Groves Celebrates Michigan Week

By BARB SCHIFFER
Special Writer

In connection with Michigan Week (May 19-25) several activities were held at Groves aimed at drawing attention to the benefits of living in the Wolverine State.

On May 23, students took over teaching and office positions for the day. Jim Whitney (12) acted as principal in place of Mr. Lundy; Jim Sifferman (12) replaced assistant principal Mr. Newsom; Anne Lawrence (12) was director of activities, and Tom Cantrill became attendance director for the day.

ONE ACTIVITY during that week included one question about Michigan asked each day over the morning broadcast. The first person answering the question correctly won a prize.

Another activity was the drawing of names of people from various honoriums who took an all day field trip to Greenfield Village May 24. Fifty-five students went. Also as part of the Michigan Week program, an assembly was held May 23 during second hour. It was presented by the Air Corps Command Band.

Announcing the staff positions for the yearbook and newspaper staffs next year, Miss Catherine Steffel, on May 3, appointed Sherry Tugers (11) editor-in-chief of the Talon, and Jane Meade (11) editor-in-chief of the Scripitor.

SERVING AS editors for the yearbook next year are the following juniors: Camille Brunk, Jane Cypark, Ann Fizer, Burt Fisher, Shafer, Nancy Howard, Hal Burshadt, Royann Kidney, Marilyn Kloiz, and Jane Cook.

In charge of sections of newspaper production next year will be these juniors: Val Schenhoff, Karen Palmer, Joe Smith, Bill Tracy, Greg Campbell, and Nancy Tarras.

Two weeks ago tryouts began for cheerleaders for the school year of 1968-69. Recently Miss Joann Kuchel, sponsor, announced the girls who had made varsity cheerleading positions: Bonnie Brundell (10), Joan Schmalzriedt (10), Tina Steele (11), Joyce Grenfell (11), Kay Heideman (10), Jane Schwartz (10), Cindy Price (10), and Kelly Johnson (10).

Chosen as junior varsity cheerleaders are Kathy Gallagher (10), Trish Bowden (10), Carol Bowden (9), Beverly Boston (9), Patsy Hasting (9), Cheryl Blair (9), Patsy Brynton (9), and Cathy Nyak (9).

Sacred Heart Banquet Held For Seniors

By ROSEMARY DEMPSEY
Special Writer

On May 22, the class of '64 held a banquet in honor of the graduates of '68. Dinner was followed by apt prophecies and wails and farewell songs. After the banquet the girls left the Academy for a party at Maureen O'Donnell's home.

On May 24, the student council took charge of the school. The faculty enjoyed this brief respite from their duties and were very grateful for the program presented in their honor by all the students.

The senior class was officially accepted into the Alumnae of the Sacred Heart on May 25. The occasion was the annual alumnae meeting and luncheon held at the Academy. The girls expressed their gratitude through the class president, Kathy Martin.

THE MIDDLE school conducted a literary last week in preparation for the Vicariate Essay Contest. Ann Makoy, the president of the literary club, introduced the participants.

The vicariate contest was held on the next day and compositions which will represent the school are those of Jane Johnston, Mary Ellen Quinn, Joanna Lorenz, Noreen Hingan, Maureen Quinn, Teresa and Barbara Pisacchetti, and Debby Poniatowski.
