

Tables Turned as Press Goes to a Party

RADIO PEOPLE MRS. JERRY OLSEN (FROM LEFT), DALE TINO, MR. OLSEN, MRS. TINO

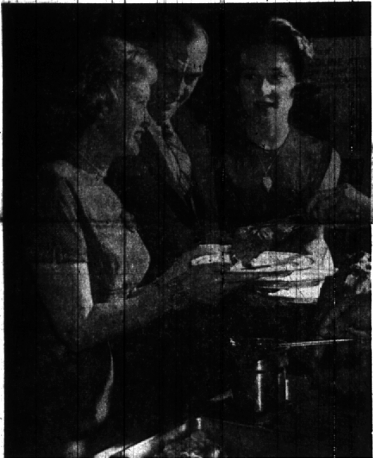

PRESIDENT OF THE CLUB AND MRS. DAN O'MADIGAN

REPORTER FRAN MAIER WITH JUDGE JOHN C. EMERY

TV EXECUTIVE PETER STRAND WITH MRS. STRAND

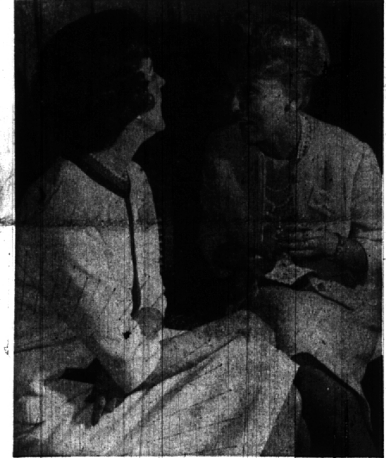

THE STEWART CRAMS WITH WRITER LINDA LAMARRE

REPORTER CLARK RICHARDSON (LEFT) WITH EDITOR PAUL TURK AND PR DIRECTOR JUNE MATTHEWS

CLUB MEMBER COLIN JOHN

MRS. HOWARD MAEDEL WITH TV WOMAN'S EDITOR MRS. DONALD (PAT) MORRIS

Gardens Their Best For Annual Tours

It's that time of year again—that time of year when Birmingham-Bloomfield gardens are at their loveliest and when the Detroit Garden Center takes advantage of this beauty to sponsor its largest fund-raising activity of the year, the annual Garden Pilgrimage.

In this area, the tours will take place June 8 and 9 when those interested will have an opportunity to see a number of "many splendored things" in the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Bader, 17400 Birchwood, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whiting, 715 Lakewood Park, Birmingham; Dr. and Mrs. James Croushore, 1185 Westwood, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shesley, 3825 Oakland Drive, Birmingham; Dr. and Mrs. Harry Lichtwardt, 4815 S. Harbards, Bloomfield Hills; Dr. and Mrs. Warren Goodwin, 590 W. Hasdale, Bloomfield Hills; Cranbrook Gardens, 40 acres in Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. William P. Shay, 65 Lode Park Road, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Colman, 8225 Radmore Drive, Bloomfield Hills.

"SERVICE TO LOVERS of growing things" is the motto of the Detroit Garden Center which, in itself, is not a garden club but works in conjunction with established garden clubs and individuals throughout the suburban and metropolitan areas.

The Garden Center, now in its thirty-second year of educational garden service, is financed by memberships, contributions and fund-raising projects such as the tour.

Its contributions to the world of gardeners includes an informative bulletin mailed out 10 times a year; seasonal lectures and round table discussions; classes on flower arranging, table settings and corsage making; Christmas Greens Workshop; a horticultural lending library; compiling colored slide collections of gardens and flower arranging; garden consultants available each day to answer inquiries and the garden pilgrimages.

In a ceremony solemnized at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church Sunday, Darlene Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Bruce of Southlawn Road, Birmingham, was chosen to crown the Blessed Mother.

In her court were Joan Magee, Kathie Kolosa, Carol Grouch, Jean Tormal and Grace Cummins.

Annual Meeting
Birmingham Business Women's Club will meet June 6 at the home of Mrs. C. E. Walker for a buffet dinner to be followed by an annual meeting and election of officers. A social hour will climax the evening.

LOCALITIES INVOLVED in this year's tour include Mrs. Harold I. Tanner, chairman; Mrs. George Glover, co-chairman; Mrs. Arthur Hyde, Mrs. Donald Tyler, Mrs. Ernest F. Scherer, Mrs. Robert Holbrook, Mrs. Henry Bradford and Mrs. Laurence Herman.

Suburban Scene by Mary Ellen Mead, Society Editor

Other Side of the Coin
When members of the press appear at a party sans pad and pencil, no lavaliere mikes dangling, TV idiot cards tucked safely back in the office file and radio scripts relegated to that same bottom drawer, ingredients for an evening in reverse are on the fire.

Such is the case, once a year, when Bloomfield Open Hunt provides this kind of breather for the professionals, lending an assist to organizing one of the largest, outdoor horse shows in the nation—the Detroit Horse Show and Hunt Fair—scheduled at the club this season June 25 through June 30.

Sub Scene attended last week's "do" (as plush as any debutante party, from hot escargots right through a frothy dessert) and decided it was high time the fourth estate discovered how it felt to be on the other end of a camera!

"So, ladies and gentlemen, meet the press!"
They were the honor guests, club members the hosts, at a party that was "go" all the way.

They'll Verify
Just ask the Peter Strands of Southfield (he's TV program manager at WXYZ) or Linda Lamarr (Pontiac Press), or Fran Maier (Detroit News), or Mrs. June Matthews (PR gal, Oakland University), or the foursome from WPON: Program director Jerry Olsen, with Mrs. Olsen, and DJ Dale Tino with Mrs. Tino; or Woman's Editor for WXYZ, Mrs. Donald (Pat) Morris. Also, Birmingham III graduate, Paul Turk, now editor of the Oakland Observer (Oakland University) and his faithful reporter, Clark Richardson, or TV man Al Nagler.

Among hosts for the evening were club president and Mrs. Dan O'Madigan, Colin John, Mr. and Mrs. George Huebner, Mr. and Mrs. John Denman, Judge John C. Emery, Wendell Smith, Mrs. Howard Maedel, the Stewart Crams, the Paul Smiths, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Girard and club manager Gene Rawlins.

Memories Are Made of This
Betty Van Loan reports that when Mr. and Mrs. William Rowe of Santa Barbara, Calif., sailed for Europe May 17, they took with them a host of memories of their eight days in Birmingham which all the sights in Europe will not dim.

On the first leg of a fabulous trip, they arrived on May 7 at the Putnam Drive home of their son, Russell, and his family.

That evening they were in the audience at Wylie Groves School when grandsons, Ron and Ed, sang in the choir concert.

Two nights later, at Groves again, they heard 17-year-old Russ perform on the trumpet in the high school band concert.

A Family Affair
Mother's Day was celebrated with a family reunion at the home of a second son, Calvin, of Pembroke Road, with 11 Rows participating, including Calvin's children, Stephen and Lisa.

With it all, Russell, Calvin and their father managed to squeeze in a few games of golf.

The senior Rows left on the 15th for Montreal where they boarded the SS Carinthia. After a month in the British Isles, they will tour the continent, returning to the States sometime in November.

Another B'ham Sweetheart
According to Eccentric correspondent Mary Cahn, Pam Conrad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Conrad of Birmingham is in orbit aboard spaceship "Cloud Nine."

The launching took place in Chicago at The Towers on Friday, May 17, during the annual spring formal dinner date of Northwestern University's Lambda Chi fraternity.

Pam became a spacegirl when the announcement was made that she had been voted "Sweetheart of Lambda Chi," and was presented with 16 white roses and two trophies. She came to earth long enough to call home and relay the news to her parents and was reminded by her dad, Austin, that she had been his sweetheart for almost 21 years. He was now willing to share her with Lambda Chi. James Swanson (fraternity member) was Pam's date.

Bonus Dept.
Added to all this, Pam, a junior at Northwestern University, majoring in the school of education, was joined by Alpha Phi sorority sisters in the celebration of her 21 birthday Wednesday, May 22, and on June 19 she and 11 other Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills girls will sail from New York City aboard the SS Hancock for a 10-week tour of Europe.

The group will visit major cities of France, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, Denmark, Norway, England and Austria, returning Aug. 28 aboard the United States.

Two Glamor Parties To Honor Graduates

Two glamorous balls are currently keeping sweet-girl-graduates in an aura of dreamy anticipation: Bloomfield Country Day's Rose Ball will be held at Bloomfield Hills Country Club May 31, and Sacred Heart's Candlelight Ball will take place June 6 at Oakland Hills Country Club.

Decorations for the first party are under the direction of Mrs. Earle MacPherson, and her committee planning to transform the club into a froth of spun sugar pink throughout. This will be achieved by using hundreds of rosy-hued balloons, rose trees abloom with pink blossoms and petal pink table cloths lighted by flickering white tapers.

SENIOR CLASS — for whom the juniors and their mothers are entertaining — will be distinguished by white gowns (all floor-length) and the bouquets they'll carry contrived of ivy and pink roses.

Mid-evening the seniors and their fathers will form a Grand March and be presented to headmistress Miss Marjorie Sallie and board president Newell McCuen. Breakfast will be served at 1 a.m.

Since this party is traditionally a family affair, a number of parents will entertain for their daughters and escorts preceding festivities at the club.

AMONG HOSTS will be the Senon Knudsens, Mrs. Rhea Bohnsack, the Jesse P. Judas and the J. Curtis Willsons.

Graduating class includes Ingrid Becker, Julie Bennett, Ginger Booth, Beatrice Boatic, Karen Boyd, Brooke Briggs, Barbara Brown and Joanne Cooper. Others are Carol Haneline, Nancy Judd, Lisa Knudsen, Maria Koutoupas, Virginia Largetas, Carol Nichol, Marty Picob, Rosemary Scheneman and Barbara Stirling.

OAKLAND HILLS Country Club will be ablaze with candlelight Thursday evening, June 6, when the fourth academic class of the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Bloomfield Hills, is presented to alumnae and friends at the annual Candlelight Ball.

This year the girls will assemble with their fathers on the circular staircase of the club before attending the dinner dance being held in their honor. Prior to this, they will present their escorts to the Religion during a brief reception at the Convent.

Graduates, all of whom will be in long white dresses and carrying pink and white colonial bouquets, include Camille Ashley, Elizabeth Bauer, Cynthia Churebas, Judith Conkin, Kathleen Coyle, Rosemary Dempsey, Dorothy Fellrath, Roberta Jones, Sharon Just, Ann Magill, Angela Maglia, Katherine Mahony, Margaret Mahony, Kathryn Martin and Elizabeth Moore.

OTHERS ARE Candace Quill, Alicia Seallen, Jane Schroeter, Susan Bennett, Patricia Shannon, Justena Stein, Linda Swenson, Carol Vison and Gayle Watts.

Mothers who have assisted in planning the event are Mrs. Bernard P. Costello, Dr. Mrs. William J. Oldani, Mrs. John B. Gaus, Jr., Mrs. Frank Cliff.