Howard Honeycutt (to Hannah, his wife): "These New York papers give me a pain. Another story about the Senate hearing on my appointment. They got it all wrong. You read it?"
 Hannah: "No. . . . I only read 'Peanuts.'"

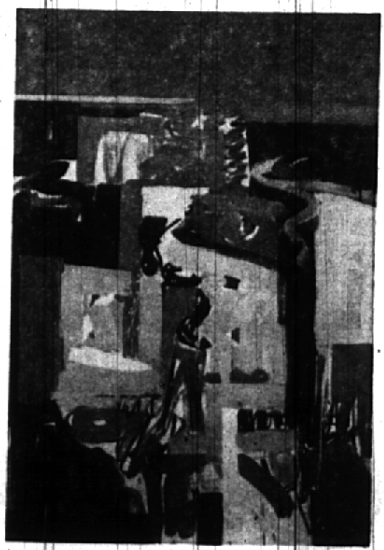

Chairman (at Senate hearing): "The chair recognizes the Republican senator from Texas."
 Senator from Texas: "Mr. Chairman, it is not within our discretion to ask a nominee's wife, or anybody's wife to testify against or for her husband."
 Chairman: "They love to do it, though."
