Suburban

Liz, Notwithstanding!

Birmingham-Bloomfield residents may have mixed emotions concerning the music "Cleopatra", but this doesn't apply to their beloved Detroit Symphony.

Hence, tickets for the local premiere benefitting the orchestra are going like hot cakes.

Red carpets, sky-searching klieg lights, champagne and an orchestra of 20 strings are on the agenda for the black tie audience who'll attend the opening June 26 in Detroit.

Dedicated committee members are shooting for $65,000 to wipe out the orchestra's deficit for the season just past. Incidentally, for those not already on the band wagon, tickets are still available at the symphony office in Ford Auditorium.

Pre-show parties have been scheduled by a number of localities, among them Mr. and Mrs. Russell S. Strickland who will dine in the Candlelight Room at the Statler with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Flitt, the Robert Fishers and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Breech.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Perting (she's co-chairman of the huge event) have asked committee members to join them at a subscription dinner party at the DAC.

Local Representation

The group includes Mr. and Mrs. George Tischer, Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Ahrens, the A. C. Girards, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Roche, the Lynn A. Townsends, Mr. and Mrs. John S. French.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Abernethy, the Edward S. Wellocks, Mr. and Mrs. Walker M. Barby, the Robert Andersons, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. John McBride, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip R. Flanders, the Semon Knud-

All across suburbia country clubs come into their own at this time of year, keeping the party ball rolling 'til Labor Day. Usually festivities are informal, with emphasis on poolside dancing, picnics on the water front or cookouts following twilight golf. However, when it's a question of honoring new members, black ties and glamorous cocktail frocks are the order of the evening. So it was at Forest Lake Country Club recently when newcomers were feted at a dinner dance which drew one of the largest crowds of the early summer season. Numerous cocktail parties preceded fun at the club. One of the gayest was that given by Club President and Mrs. Donald Green in their home in Franklin. Past presidents and their ladies, plus new Forest Laker, were among the guests.

sens. Mr. and Mrs. Philip G. Moon, the Elwood P. Engels, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Green and Mrs. Wesley Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore O. Yntema will be joined at the Detroit Club by Mr. and Mrs. George Russell and the West H. Gallogly.

Following the premiere, all Cleopatras (symphony man Jim Hicks coined "THAT one") are invited to an afterglow party at the Statler.

Follow the Leader

What Paris decrees, Birmingham embraces! Evidence was glitteringly pointed up Saturday night at the annual Carousel Ball in Detroit where any color—just so long as it was white—was the trend in glamor gowns.

Be they long or short, bouffant or sheaths, snowy frocks provided stunning contrast to suburban tans.

Mrs. Ben Mills, regal in a pencil slim, floor-length lace, deviated only as to back treatment: a flowing panel of emerald green chiffon falling from the waist.

Mrs. Robert Gargaro chose crisp white cotton and so did Mrs. Hank Forster, Mrs. Roy Fruehauf and Mrs. Bill Scripps complemented their brunet coloring in gowns of white chiffon and satin, respectively, and Mrs. Leonard Meldman and Karen VanderKloot also whirled across the dance floor—to the music of Guy Lombardo—in crystal white.

Colorful summer prints were important, too, especially as worn by Mrs. M. M. Burgess, Party Chairman, Mrs. Sidney Chapin and Mrs. Len Latos.

Add Party Talk

Showers for Francie Von Maur, daughter of the Robert Van Maurs of Bradway Blvd., continue to keep things lively for young friends of the bride-elect home from college.

Mrs. John G. Slater and daughter Jane of Bloomfield Village entertained June 6 at a luncheon and miscellaneous shower, and on June 12 Mrs. Carl Abbott and her daughter Ann were hostesses at a mother-daughter luncheon and personal shower in their home on Bradway Blvd.

Among those attending were Mrs. Slater and Jane, Mrs. Tom Watson and Emile, Mrs. Carl Beier with Barbara, Mrs. John Mann and Susan, Mrs. John Schinsky and Sandy and Françoise's aunt, Mrs. John Morse, Jr.

Incidentally, Mrs. Abbott and Ann left for New York Monday, Ann bent on a 10-week-tour of Europe. She and several other Birmingham girls, including Pam Conrad, will sail Wednesday.

More party talk revolves around Toni Jo Frankford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart W. Frankford, who's a perky miss (like her name) and who thinks it's great to be "eleven-years-old-going-on-twelve."

In view of this momentous occasion, Toni Jo felt a slumber party was indicated... dubious parents, Stu and Arlene, acquiesced.

Festivities started at 11 a.m. Friday and lasted 'til 11 a.m. Saturday—quite a record for a first go-round of this type.

Raymond Burr Stars in Play And at Party

Birmingham couples were among those attending a late supper party following the June 9 performance of "Oh, Men Oh Women," at Northland Playhouse, starring Raymond Burr.

Hosts were Burr's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson Robinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Wheaton in their new Detroit art gallery.

THE LOCAL guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Moyer of Brookside Drive, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pepin of N. Foxkerton, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Pease of Oakland Drive, Birmingham; and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Fredericks of Lake Park, Birmingham.

Fredericks and actor Burr are old friends, and the Birmingham artist's work is shown in Burr's gallery in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Tradition Plays Part In Wedding

A family tradition was continued when Patricia Barkley Reed and William Sidney Morse, III were married on Flag Day, June 14.

The tradition began when the bridegroom's grandparents and later his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Nelson Kimball of Bloomfield Hills, were married on the same date. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Walter Russell Barkley of Birmingham and the late Mr. Barkley.

THE NEWLY married couple left for northern Michigan following the wedding at Franklin Community Church, and a family dinner.

She attended Michigan State University, Wayne State University and Denison University, where she was affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi. He is a graduate of Cranbrook School and Northwood Institute. He is attending Wayne State University.
