Susan Sutherland Married in Lansing

Susan Sutherland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Milan Sutherland of Indianwood Shores, Lake Orion, spoke her marriage vows Saturday afternoon to Douglas Samuel Asad, Chicago, Ill., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Charles Asad of Parma, O.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized in the Cooley Gardens in Lansing, which were given to the city by the bride's maternal grandparents, the Eugene F. Cooleys. Mr. Cooley's father was Judge Thomas McIntyre Cooley, Chief Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, after whom Cooley High School in Detroit and the Cooley Fountain at the University of Michigan were named.

SUSAN, WELL known in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills because of attending Kingswood School Cranbrook (from which she was graduated) wore a Mr. Rulaine original for her wedding.

It was designed in full-length white silk jersey, shirred and draped in Grecian style. The chapel-length train was shirred from the shoulders and formed a V-line back.

Her U-shaped crown headdress was adorned with heirloom orange blossoms worn by Mrs. F. M. in a L'Honnoree; Susan's great-great aunt of Detroit; by her maternal grandmother, June Davis Cooley; her mother, Louise Cooley Sutherland of Lansing; and her aunt Margaret Cooley Wheeler of Birmingham.

Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion was trimmed with Swiss appliques, which also marked her train. She carried geraniums and lilies of the valley on her Rainbow Bible.

SALLY SUTHERLAND was a bridesmaid of honor, and bridesmaids included Katherine McMahon of Rensselaer, Wisc.; Jane Nissen of Albuquerque, N. M.; Bobbi Robertson of Huntington Park, Md.; Caroline McMillan and Mrs. James Bullock of Oxford, and Mrs. Gene Gossage of Evanston, Ill.

They were all dressed in varying shades of pink—from bluish-pink through wild roses. They carried miniature roses in blending tones.

Flower girl Marcia Schberg

of Okemos, cousin of the bride, was in spring green silk and carried a basket of rose petals.

THOMAS GEORGE Asad, of Parma, O., was best man for his brother, and ushers included Gene Gossage of Evanston; Stuart Hokjymb, Jr. of Peoria, Ill.; Dewitt Hoopes of Denver, Colo.; John Richards and James Behrens of Chicago, and David Elmer and Dale Finley of Cleveland.

Following a reception at the Country Club of Lansing, the couple left on a wedding trip in Canada. They will make their home in Wilmette, Ill.

Franklin Church Scene of Ceremony

On July 6 Diane Tracy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Tracy of 6290 W. Surrey, Birmingham, became the bride of Gordon C. Ablitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Ablitt of Carpentry, Calif. at a ceremony in

MRS. ABLITT

Franklin Community Church. A reception took place following the service at Forest Lake Country Club.

The bride chose a silk linen gown with dome skirt, elbow-length sleeves and sabrina neckline trimmed with bands of Venice lace at the waist and a panel train. Her silk pill box secured a chapel veil. Her bouquet was carnations, stephanotis and ivy.

MATRONS OF honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Jay H. Tracy of Royal Oak. Other attendants were Neil Lindsay of Hendersonville, N. C.; Carolyn Smith Chatham, N. J., and Linda Fracassi of Middlefield, N. J. The attendants' gowns were Asian blue chiffon with matching Dior headpieces and they carried white carnation sprays with ivy.

Mr. Ablitt's best man was Dr. Neville Carter, brother-in-law, of Culver City, Calif., and ushers were Jay H. Tracy, brother of the bride, and Stephen Drogin of San Diego, Calif.

THE COUPLE will be at home after July 10 at Virginia Beach, Va., where the bridegroom is stationed as a lieutenant junior grade with the U. S. Navy and is a member of the Seal Team. His bride was a former stewardess with United Airlines.
