

Thief Gets $245 From Beef N Bun

An unknown customer patronized the Beef N Bun restaurant late Saturday or early Sunday. When he left, he took with him a cash box containing $245.15.

Birmingham police said glass in the rear door was broken and the door forced open. The cash box was taken from its hiding place in the kitchen.

Dr. Daniel Boucher and Robert Gwynn, both of Birmingham are co-owners of the restaurant at 818 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

Dr. Boucher called the Birmingham police at 8:15 a.m. Monday after discovering evidence of the break-in.

Police said that the break-in must have occurred some time after 10 p.m. Saturday, when the restaurant closes, and early Sunday.

Y Announces Funds Given For Expansion

Donations for the Birmingham YMCA expansion program total $240,304.50 thus far, according to William E. Roberts, general chairman of the Capital Funds Drive.

The money, which will be used for a gymnasium, swimming pool, physical fitness equipment and other facilities, includes donations in the following categories:

ADVANCE GIFTS, $184,024; 'Y' members division, $40,423.50; board and staff, $14,155; and clubs and organizations, $475.

Also received is $1,199 in metropolitan mailing, a mailing to people they could not reach by person.

University Student Receives Honors

Students named to the dean's list at the University of Cincinnati for their outstanding scholastic work have been announced by Dr. Walter C. Langsam, university president.

They include Susan Ogle, 4653 Burnley, Birmingham, a student in the College of Design, Architecture and Art.

Winning Swimmers

Bids Exceed Estimate for Sewer Project

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Development of Pine Lake Sewer No. 2, serving Pine Lake Country Club and other properties along the west and north sides of the lake, has been delayed.

Construction bids opened at a township board meeting last week were well in excess of the estimated cost of constructing the sewer. They exceeded by more than 10 per cent the legal limit under which construction could proceed.

THREE OTHER sewer projects upon which bids were also opened were within cost estimates. The board authorized their award to the low bidder. They include districts for Bloomfield Village, Pine Lake District 1, and Powder Horn Estates.

Township engineer Tony Alix, questioned by the board as to the difference in his estimate and bids received on the Pine Lake Sewer District 2, laid the blame to the improvement of Orchard Lake Road which necessitated a sudden change in sewer plans.

Alix was instructed to renegotiate with the three lowest bidders to see if construction bids could be secured.

Officials Go To Denver Conference

"County Home Rule" is the theme of the National Association of County Officers' annual conference which 16 Oakland County officials are attending in Denver, Colo.

Additional topics of discussion are welfare planning, highway planning, community facilities planning and education should be attuned to the current worldwide economic struggle known as the Cold War."

AMONG THOSE attending are Delos Hamlin, chairman of the county board of supervisors; Frank Webber, vice chairman; David Levinson, past chairman; and Reta Erickson, board secretary.

Others are city supervisors, R. Clare Cummings, Pontiac; Curtis Potter and Harry Horton, Royal Oak; Charles H. Edwards, Jr., Madison Heights; Thomas O'Donoghue, Ferndale; and David Calhoun, Huntington Woods.

More are Township Supervisors John Carey of Springfield and Curtis Hall of Farmington; County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy; Public Works Director R. J. Alexander; Corporation Counsel Robert Allen; and Welfare Director George Williams.

Water Line

Lockhart said Tuesday the city does not expect to take further action. He said the 12-inch main is on the property, although not installed.

Lockhart said the developers threatened to put in wells and hook to Royal Oak water. He indicated this would probably be more expensive than accepting the Troy proposal.

Squibb, who lives at 596 Rutledge Road, Bloomfield Hills, said Tuesday there were no new developments.

Levine added that in order to move ahead with the proposals, the commission should:

- Prohibit left turns from Long Lake to northbound Woodward.
- Approve the U-turn crossover.
- Send a letter of intent to the highway department concerning the southeast quadrant of the peripheral road.

The commission took no action at the special meeting but Commissioner David W. Lee suggested that the three-point proposal be submitted to the planning commission for a recommendation. The city commission could act on it at the next regular meeting, he said.

Planning commissioners present were Chairman John Graham and William B. Giles.

against the side of the bridge and prayed for help.

Seven persons, out of some 60 treated for injuries, remained in hospitals Sunday.

At Hillcrest, just west of Mt. Clemens, city officials said the bridge had been replanked and strengthened recently in preparation for heavy use during the tournament.

Irv Jaffe, club member and publicist for the tournament, said investigation after the tragedy revealed that the steel suspension cables did not "break."

But one hook pulled straight under the excessive weight and caused the bridge to drop.

Crash People Using ZIP Code, Say Officials thought that he was going in the wrong direction on Long Lake Road and went to turn around.

"He claimed he didn't even get back onto the road," he said. "He froze when he saw the car coming," said Grant.

Witnesses said DiVita got to the middle of the road, apparently noticed the Pontiac coming upon him and stopped, according to Grant.

RAYMANN'S FATHER was leaving to pick up his mother to take to the wedding, when his wife called back, informed him there had been an accident and that they had to go to the hospital. Raymann's younger brother, Gary, 16, and sister, Kristin, 15, stayed home.

Gary made the necessary call, calling off the wedding.

Later the minister who was to have performed the ceremony, the Rev. Theodore Wuggazer, Jr., called to tell them the accident had been fatal.

ZEHNDER WAS a 1960 graduate of Seaholm High School and a 1968 graduate of Ferris State College. He had lived in Birmingham for 11 years and was a member of the Men's Club of Redeemer Lutheran Church.

In addition to the immediate family, he is survived by two sets of grandparents, the Fred Zehnders of Birmingham and the Raymond Dornings of Detroit.

FUNERAL services will be at 1 p.m. today in the Vase-Lynch Funeral Home, Royal Oak, with burial in Glen Eden Cemetery. Rev. Wuggazer will officiate.

IN BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Postmaster Herbert Dyble describes the response of individuals and the city's 30 businesses as "amazing." "Over 50 per cent of our patrons are using the code already," said Dyble. "This is remarkable considering that the ZIP code system has been in effect less than a month."

Dyble said many are waiting until their supply of envelopes are exhausted—at which time the code number will be printed on the new ones.

"We have had quite a few calls, mostly to find out the numbers of other communities," the postmaster said. "We have a directory of all the numbers throughout the United States. It is about twice as thick as our telephone directory."

The ZIP code number in Bloomfield Hills is 480013.

Paving Necessity Hearing Scheduled

A public hearing on the necessity of extending the pavement north on Old Salem Court has been scheduled for the Aug. 12 meeting of the Birmingham City Commission.

Cost of extending the pavement 94 feet has been estimated at $1,600 by City Engineer William T. Killam. Only two property owners—Charles C. Currie and Carl T. Blauman Jr.—would be affected by the improvement. Currie favors the project and Blauman opposes it.
