Bud Heft Honored At Wedding Shower

By LOUISE N. KRAEMER
MI 6-9716

It's the season for weddings and showers, but it would be hard to top a shower given last week for a local groom-to-be.

Earl (Bud) Heft Jr. is spending the summer as a lifeguard at the Beverly Athletic Club pool and is very popular with members of all ages. When they learned he planned to be married in August to Linda Gigliotti of Berkshire Drive in Bloomfield Township, they decided to give him a surprise shower. They enlisted the aid of his fiancée, who persuaded him to take her to the pool on Wednesday evening.

IN A SETTING of streamers and wedding bells between 100 and 150 adults and children waited. As Bud walked to the pool everyone started singing, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Bud and Linda received many kitchen gifts and electrical appliances from the adults. The children brought cans of food and smaller kitchen utensils. There were many decorated cakes brought and served for refreshments. The pool was closed for the party and reopened after the festivities were concluded.

THE "BADGERS," winning Continental Major League Team, were entertained at the home of the team mother, Mrs. Eugene Gilme on Balewood Court following the victory.

They held a "cook-out" in the Gilme's spacious yard which also contained a baseball diamond, tennis court and a riding horse. Team Manager Bob Brown and his wife and Coach John Shada with his wife were present.

THE KNIGHTS of Columbus on Southfield are planning a picnic for members and their families on August 18. The picnic will be held at Dodge Brothers No. 6 State Park on Beverly Road from noon on with games, prizes and refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kratt and daughter Joyce on Elizabeth returned last week from a vacation near Caseville.

They spent an enjoyable two weeks swimming, fishing, boating and visiting the local night spots. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lauesen, Debbie and Bryan returned this week from a camping trip to Higgins Lake, where they spent the last two weeks sightseeing and enjoying the many activities available in that area.

LOUISE KRAEMER JR. returned last week from a week's vacation at a summer resort on Thunder Bay.

She went with her sister, Mrs. Robert F. Paul Jr. and family. The Surfside Report is a favorite gathering spot for the family each year.

This year two aunts, uncles and a combined total of 11 cousins, nieces, nephews and grandfather added to the enjoyment of swimming, boating, fishing, golf, bridge and shopping.

Fashion

houette is long, lean and high-waisted. The floor-sweeping length is the most popular and an ankle-length (called "cabaret" by Teal Triana) looks good for theater suits and dinner dresses . . . both styles running away with popularity polls for evening wear. The split tight skirt is everywhere.

UNDER THE BRIGHT lights, you can look like a Greek goddess, a medieval princess, a Spanish flamenco dancer or a Napoleonic court lady. You can even look like Helen Wills if you go for Oleg Cassini's all-over white beaded sweater dress with its V-neck framed with a red and blue band of sequins.

There are braided and jet embroidered jackets, long sleeves covered with brilliants and worn with a tiny pillow of matching embroidery.

Evening coats or mantles cover the most elegant. Fur coats go back to floor lengths for evening.

Velvet is having its most prosperous season. Brocades, matelasses and satins are the fabric winners for evening wear.

THE DAYTIME LOOK of fall will demand some type of head covering. Bill Blass has even dignified the babushka with a fashion status.

Some of the terms that you will hear dropped around millinery departments are:

"Man hair" meaning the enticing evening hats that are pure fantasies of veils, feathers and jewels . . . porkpie . . . boule (high rounded hat) . . . cache (hair-covering style) . . . "Cholia" the hat shaped like the Bolivian ranch riders . . . "Caravan brown" a new neutral brown tone . . . the Garbo slouch . . . and the stylish significance of the fur hat going on without a break. There are extremes of fashion in hats as there are in clothes.

AT THE RECENT MEETINGS of the fashion press in New York, the most approval went to Vera Maxwell, Kimberly Knitwear, Hannah Troy, Anne Fogarty, Dior of New York (but mostly for daytime clothes), Larry Aldrich, Donald Brooks, Junior Sophisticates, Wragge and Adele Simpson.

Most disapproved: Rudi Gernreich. Comme ci, comme ca attitude: Norrell, Trigere, (depending on personal taste).

Fifty-for, 50-against: Jablow, Sondheim, Oleg Cassini, Burke-Amy, Scassini's Boutique for Martini. The BIG surprise was Bob Bugnand's line for Sam Friedlander. The reaction to the designs was mixed but all agreed it was "terrific" for the price . . . $80 to $200.

MRS. HARPER

Bride's Brother Officiates at Wedding Rites

Marjorie Anne Gagnon and Terrence Quinn Harper spoke their nuptial vows at Our Lady Queen of Mary's Church, Birmingham, on July 27 before the Rev. Joseph A. Gagnon, brother of the bride.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Gagnon of Birmingham. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harper of Detroit.

The bride chose a silk linen re-embroidered Alencon lace gown with the bodice marked by a high placed sash. An Alencon lace pillbox secured the tiered veil. She carried Phalanopsis orchids.

MRS. MARY CHAPO, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Frances Gagnon, sister of the bride, and Ann Harper, the bridegroom's sister.

They all wore stream length yellow linen dresses and carried nosegays of yellow and white daisies.

James Cornish assisted the bridegroom as best man. Seating guests were Abraham Karam of Ypsilanti and Lawrence Harper of Detroit.

Carolyn Chappo, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. A breakfast at Devon Gables, Bloomfield Hills, followed the ceremony. The couple will settle in Detroit after a two-week wedding trip to New York.

Teenagers Hold Party At Red Run

Members of BOPEOF, inter-club dance group comprised of the teenage sons and daughters from local country clubs, met Saturday at Red Run Golf Club for swimming, dinner and dancing. Chaperones for the party from Birmingham-Bloomfield were Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fournier, the Cyril Firths and Mr. and Mrs. George Kuehn.

Next party is scheduled for Aug. 28 at Orchard Lake Country Club. Besides Red Run and Orchard, other participating clubs are Birmingham Country Club, Oakland Hills, Pine Lake and Forest Lake.

Son Is Born

Dr. and Mrs. Warren L. Wittry (Jean Klepp of Milwaukee, Wis.) of Newgate Road, Birmingham, announce the birth of a son, David Carl, on July 22.
