

Tribute Garden Blooms at Baldwin

As a result of Alice Burlingame's green thumb, a teardrop-shaped garden is in bloom outside the children's reading room at Baldwin Public Library. Members of the Little Garden Club planned the garden as a tribute to one of their members, the late Mrs. A. L. (Alice) Hopkins. It's placement was chosen because of Mrs. Hopkins' love for, and interest in, children. With garden club member Mrs. George Hoke are her two youngsters, Amanda and Chad. They and their contemporaries are saving pennies to add a piece of statuary to the garden.

'89'er' Celebrates At Advance Party

By MARTI CAHN
MI 6-2890

It isn't every man who attains the age of 89 and celebrates the occasion by enjoying all favorite hobbies. Henry (better known as Heinie) Snook is one who did just that!

Long-standing hobbies of Heinie's have been gardening, sports (including horse races) and pretty women. These were plentiful at an advance birthday party July 23.

(Heinie's anniversary is tomorrow, Aug. 2.) The day of the party began with our man-of-distinction arising early to take care of his flowers and to gather a few choice ones to present to the pretty women hostesses who were honoring him that day with luncheon at the Detroit race course.

HOSTESSES WERE Dorothy (Mrs. Joe L.) Newman and daughter Joan (Mrs. Bill) Rex, Mr. Snook's daughter and granddaughter; Clara (Mrs. Harold) Burrows, Alice (Mrs. William E.) Johnston and Estelle (Mrs. Walter) Sheetz. Following the busy day, Heinie was content to have a quiet evening listening to the Tiger-White Sox baseball game on radio and is looking forward to a repeat celebration in 1964.

Mr. Snook came to Detroit with his parents from Owen Sound, Canada, at the age of four. He joined the Detroit Police Department when he was sixteen, and retired 36 years ago as lieutenant of detectives.

He has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Joe L. Newman and Mr. Newman of Bloomfield for the past 11 years.

The wedding of David Jeffrey and Mary Louise Waitt at Leland on Saturday was witnessed by a host of Birmingham and Bloomfield residents, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Cornish (Mrs. Cornish is an aunt of the groom's) and their son, John, who was an usher; Mr. and Mrs. James S. Tuttle of Club Drive, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald McKay of Windingwood, Bloomfield Hills (Mrs. Tuttle and Mrs. McKay are the groom's aunts).

Still others were Mr. and Mrs. B. Jeffrey Cornish and Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald McKay, Jr. (he was another usher).

THE GROUP were weekend houseguests at the Clare, Mich., lodge of Dor and Don McKay. Preceding the 4:30 wedding ceremony, former Birmingham residents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayward Gay (now of Cincinnati) entertained Birmingham friends at a luncheon given at the William Walker cottage.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Milve Waitt III of Cincinnati, and groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Dewitt Jeffrey, of Tucson, Ariz., will reside in Tucson following a honeymoon at a Wyoming dude ranch.

MR. AND MRS. Rod A. Campbell of Country Club Drive, Bloomfield Hills, entertained on Wednesday night with a patio cookout in honor of bride-elect Mary Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Becker, Detroit, and her fiance, John Morand, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Morand of Fairfield Road, Detroit.

Other honored guests were newly-weds Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Sherwood, Jr. Mrs. Sherwood is the former Ann St. Clair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will H. St. Clair of Bloomfield Village. Mr. Sherwood is the son of Mrs. Lloyd C. Sherwood of Kawick Road, Bloomfield Hills, and the late Mr. Sherwood.
