Jeanne and Julie Mininall Spend Summer Traveling

By LOUISE N. KRAEMER
MI 6-9716

Jeanne and Julie Mininall, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mininall of 2394 Northlawn, Birmingham, have had interesting experiences and covered considerable ground on their vacations this summer.

They started out by touring Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula, plus a stopover on Mackinac Island.

While sight-seeing on Mackinac Island they were seen with Gov. George Romney in the "Sturkey with the Fringe on Top" and have a picture for remembrance.

ON THEIR return they boarded the New York Central Pullman train sleeper with New York City as their destination.

After covering the high points there, they traveled on to Pennsylvania where they were guests of their mother's sister and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Nightengale, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

The "25 Up" Club of the north suburban area held their regular monthly social meeting on Aug. 14 at the Kingsley Inn.

OUR LADY Queen of Martyrs Aid Society is organizing a bridge league for parish women and their friends. Mrs. Marion J. Kolasa is in charge of reservations, which will be closed on Aug. 26. Competition will begin in September.

Mrs. Stuart Kelly, secretary of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs bowling league, is taking reservations for next year until Sept. 1. Weekly bowling will begin on Sept. 9 at 12:30 p.m. at Bowlero Lanes.

MR. AND MRS. Ted Sura and sons, Ted Jr., Scott and Mark, of Chatham Drive recently returned from ten days in the Upper Peninsula.

Prior to their vacation they attended the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mrs. Sura's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ward in Gladstone, Mich.

Relatives and family of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ward gathered from afar for the anniversary dinner which was held at the Dells Supper Club in Gladstone.

THE SURAS went on to Sault Ste. Marie where they took a boat trip through the Locks, then on to Blaine Park where they saw deer with their fawns, Canadian geese and took pictures of the many bears gathering at the dump.

They also did some fishing and golfing before going on to view the Tahquamenon Falls, both upper and lower, by boat.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McGuire and children, Al, Jr., Karen, Michael, Patricia, Jean, Elliot and Thomas of Pickwick Lane have returned from a month's vacation in the East.

THEY WENT to Jamaica, N. Y., to attend the wedding of McGuire's sister, Virginia, and William Astip on June 15.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Bishop Boardman of the Brooklyn Diocese in Our Lady of Consolation Church.

The McGuire then went on to a cottage at East Hampton, L. I., where they went deep sea fishing, tuna fishing, (they caught 15 tuna), swimming and attending luncheons with relatives and friends.

They visited museums, Montauk Point and other places of interest. Mrs. McGuire, a graduate of Hunters College, entertained her college group at an evening party.

THEY ALSO entertained at a breakfast for Mr. and Mrs. George Housheer and their two daughters from Jonesville, Mich., who had been to Washington and were on their way to Connecticut.

The Don LaSage family on Pickwick Lane have had a busy summer entertaining out of state friends. Captain and Mrs. Harry Mackay and son Bruce recently visited with them.

THE CAPTAIN, a world wide traveler, had just retired from the United States Navy after 20 years of service. They were on their way to Oregon where he will enter civilian life in the field of civil engineering.

He had been LaSage's commanding officer in El Toro, a jet base in California.

They visited the art galleries at Cranbrook and the Birmingham Art Gallery which were enjoyed by Captain Mackay, who had taken art training in Williamsburg.

FOLLOWING THIS visit the LaSages entertained Mrs. William R. Cole and children, Susan, Robin and Patty, from San Marino, Calif.

She is the daughter-in-law of the Rev. Farmer Cole, minister of the Covenant Baptist Church on James Couzins Highway.

Bill Cole is active in television and radio in Los Angeles, Calif.

MR. DON LaSAGE, her mother, Mrs. F. J. Evans, and the two older children, Kathy and Mark, took a leisurely three-day trip across Canada last weekend.

They drove the scenic route up the lake shore, visiting London, Ont., and Fort Stanley where they visited and renewed acquaintances with relatives and friends.

MISS MAYNE

Parties Honor Peggy Mayne

Peggy Ann Mayne sparkled and glowed with delight as she opened bridal shower gifts at the home of Mrs. John C. Ridley on Aug. 8.

Mrs. Ridley and Mrs. Richard M. Clark, both of Bloomfield Hills, were co-hostesses to honor bride-elect Peggy with a kitchen shower and luncheon.

Cocktails were served at Mrs. Olsen's home. Luncheon and the opening of gifts followed at Mrs. Ridley's residence.

OTHER PARTIES honoring Peggy were a luncheon and linen shower given by Mrs. Frank Lynch and Mrs. Thomas Sheehan at the Oakland Hills Country Club. Mrs. Vincent Van Fleet and daughter Karen of Birmingham were co-hostesses for an around the clock shower and luncheon at the Detroit Golf Club. Mrs. Robert Flint and daughter Susan entertained with a luncheon and pool party at their Bloomfield Hills home on Aug. 7.

MR. AND MRS. E. Q. Sylvester III are entertaining tonight for the wedding party and the out-of-town guests at Mrs. Sylvester's (formerly Kathy Van Dusen) parent's home in Bloomfield Hills. It will be a miscellaneous shower in honor of the bridegroom.

Mrs. John S. Bugas and daughter Jane, maid of honor, gave the spinner dinner on Aug. 19 at their Bloomfield Hills home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel E. Post give the rehearsal dinner tomorrow night at the Detroit Golf Club for the wedding party and the out-of-town guests.

PEGGY ANN Mayne, daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Mayne and the late Mrs. Alice Mayne of 630 Vaucharat Road, Bloomfield Hills, graduated in 1950 from Kingswood School Cranbrook and received her B.A. degree in June 1953, from the University of Colorado where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma and Phi Beta Kappa.

She spent the summer of 1951 in India as a member of the Experiment in International Living. She studied at the University of Groningen in France and at St. Clare's Hall in Oxford, England, where she met her fiance, Herschel E. Post Jr.

MR. POST is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herchel E. Post of Palos Verdes Estates, Calif.

He graduated in 1957 from the Thacher School in Ajai, Calif., and graduated cum laude from Yale University in 1961 where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi and Phi Beta Kappa, the Psi and was chairman of the Yale Daily News.

He was awarded a Rhodes Scholarship to study at New College, Oxford, and plans to enter Harvard Law School in the fall.

THE FUTURE Mrs. Post will also study for a master of arts of teaching degree at Harvard. Christ Church is the setting for the Mayne-Post wedding ceremony on Aug. 24, followed by the reception and supper at the Detroit Golf Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Post will reside in Cambridge, Mass.

Pair Repeats Vows In Calif. Ceremony

Carol Klenke, daughter of former Bloomfield Hills residents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klenke, now of Sherman Oaks, Calif., became the bride of William Fite Burrow Jr. on Aug. 17 at 10 a.m. Officiating was Msgr. Thomas F. Fogarty.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Burrow of Dallas, Tex., are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride chose a gown of light ivory princess lace with scalloped edged neckline and cap sleeves. The waistline was accented with a comb-band of peau de soie, finished with a bow and fabric roses at the back. The controlled lace skirt was highlighted with a detachable peau de soie train. The princess lace veil was held in place with a tiny pill box. She carried phalaenopsis orchids.

MAID OF HONOR was Toni Porter of Dallas, Tex. Bridesmaids were Sally Weckler from Bloomfield Hills and Nancy Burrow, sister of the groom, also of Dallas. They wore street length pink silk organza gowns with accents of pink satin. Their headpieces were bows of matching fabric. They carried cascades of spider mums.

Frederick Eugene Bishop of Highland Park, Ill., was best man. The ushers were Donald B. Stott of New York, Alec A. Johnson of Dallas and Neville H. Dallas from North Hollywood.

FOLLOWING THE ceremony, a champagne luncheon and dancing to the Bill Roberts orchestra took place at the Bel Air Hotel.

The couple will honeymoon in the Hawaiian Islands and then return to Handon, Conn., for a period and then make their permanent home in Dallas.

Mrs. P. H. Moray Vows Spoken

Linda Ann Stone, daughter of Mrs. Ben Stone of Bloomfield Hills and the late Mr. Stone, was married to Peter Hovor Moray at an oval neckline. The short sleeves and panels on the skirt were accented with reembroided Alencon lace flowers.

Dr. Fred Hicks accompanied the bride down the aisle, and Dr. Glen Harris officiated at the afternoon ceremony.

Miss Stone selected a gown of silk organza over taffeta with an oval neckline. The short sleeves and panels on the skirt were accented with reembroided Alencon lace flowers.

AN OBI BOW marked the detachable train. The headpiece, a back-swept bow that matched the gown, held the silk illusion veil.

The bride's sister, Nancy Stone, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Janice Howarth of Birmingham and Susan Beatty of Midland. Their gowns were white lace over lavender taffeta with matching pillbox hats.

Samuel Moray, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man. Ushers were Douglas Dahm of Southfield and Norman Fredericks, Jr. of Bloomfield Hills.

After a reception at the Village Woman's Club, the newlyweds departed for a honeymoon in New York City.

LATHRUP-CRANBROOK VILLAGE Local Family Returns From Western Vacation

Recently returned to their Autumn Lane home are Dr. and Mrs. Richard Secontine and their two children, Pam and Dawn.

The family visited with a former classmate in Chicago of Dr. Secontine, Dr. and Mrs. Lou LaVell at their Seattle, Wash., home.

After renewing old friendships, the Secontines went up to Paradise Lodge at Mt. Rainier for four days.

While they were there they drove as high as they could and then climbed up the mountain to the glacier and played in the snow.

A highlight of the four days was a horse pack trip also up the mountain. This delighted the two girls.

FROM THE snow and cold the family went to the Ocean Shores resort for four days and went swimming, boating and clam digging.

Dr. Secontine then returned home while Mrs. Secontine remained west for another two weeks.

She and the girls did some sight-seeing in Seattle including a trip around the fair to see the food and science exhibits and the crafts from around the world and topped off the excursion with luncheon in the Space Needle Restaurant.

ANOTHER AUTUMN Lane couple has returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Gallen L. Hobbs spent last week in Ludington, Mich., visiting with Hobbs' mother, Mrs. Mamie Hobbs.

Carol Caster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Caster of Shagbark Drive, Southfield, was among the group of Michigan Youth Chorale that returned last Thursday from seven weeks abroad.

Carol was an exchange student last year and this year, while in Hamburg, Germany, she renewed friendships with her "other family," Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Otto.

She was also able to visit her "sister," the Ottos' daughter in England.

Have You Met . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Bunknight who moved here from Mt. Lebanon, Pa., on June 15. The Bunknights now reside at 219 S. Glenary Road. He is a civil engineer employed by Army Mobilize Command at Harward, and is a teacher. They have a married son living in Madison, N. J., a daughter teaching in Columbus, O., and a daughter entering Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa. The Bunknights enjoy gardening and bridge.

Club Plans 'Ball and Chain'

"Ball and chain" is the amusing though hardly flattering title Plum Hollow Golf Club has applied to its summer series of Wednesday evening programs.

Nine holes of golf, dinner and dancing are offered members, but men must play golf with their wives. To the couple with low score goes a free steak dinner.

A pair of ball-and-chain who recently helped start a parter-house on the house for their spouses were Mrs. Robert Pierson of Middleton Drive and Mrs. Thomas McMaster of Bellvue Trail.

Born in Brazil

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Chope (nee Barbara Bernhard) of Sao Paulo, Brazil, announce the birth of a son, Charles Andrew, Aug. 13. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Chope of Bloomfield Township and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bernhard of Suffield Road, Birmingham.

Romance for Two

Preceding a dinner party given in their honor Saturday night, Marguerite Schmidt and Alex Billesdon posed for an engagement picture between sets of their favorite sport. Marguerite is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Farbury P. Schmidt of Wing Lake Road, who were hosts at the family gathering and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander G. Billesdon of Lathrup Village. Now a senior at the University of North Carolina, the bridegroom-elect is a graduate of Cranbrook. Marguerite was graduated from Centenary College for Women in June. Date for the wedding will be announced later.
