

Newlywed Taylors Travel to Cape Cod

MRS. C. R. TAYLOR, JR.

The new Mrs. Charles Richter Taylor, Jr., changed into a pink silk suit and pink organza turban with jeweled forehead inset for traveling to Cape Cod via New York City after her wedding and reception Saturday.

Diane Kay Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Allison of Bloomfield Hills, spoke marriage vows in a candlelight ceremony at Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Birmingham. The Rev. Theodore Waggoner officiated. She wore a deep ivory gown of silk peau de soie trimmed with red-embroidered abalone lace. The bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeve. The controlled skirt fell into a swooping cap train.

HER HEADPIECE was a forehead princess cap of pearl filigree, topped with a double tier of Alencon lace frosted with seed pearls, iridescent crystals and a pearl drop, to hold her veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of gardenias.

Mrs. John E. Jamieson, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Vicki Allison, sister of the bride; Judy Taylor, sister of the bridegroom; and Joyce Adams of Bloomfield Hills.

They carried hurricane lamps with a lighted candle, trimmed with tangerine carnations. Their dresses were apricot silk shantung sheaths with bell overlays, and they wore matching pillbox hats.

TWO NICERES of the bride, Kimberley and Kerry Jamieson, were flower girls. Wearing white organza dresses, they carried flower baskets of fresh rose petals to scatter.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Taylor of Pitts- burgh, has for his father to be best man. Ushers included David Reuter of Tyler, Tex.; George L. Eyon of Pittsburgh; John E. Jamieson, brother-in-law of the bride, of Birmingham; Thomas H. Meyer of Suffern, N.Y.; and Lawrence M. Malm of Westport, Conn.

Balloons from Fair Returned to Area

By ELEANOR NELSEN HI 7-4864

Have you ever wondered how it would feel to soar high in the sky and land in a strange place or to die?

If a balloon could think and speak, we might be able to find out first hand reactions.

Recalling the last May when the Westchester school held their fair, one of the attractions was the purchase of a balloon to which a card was attached.

When it was retrieved the finder was to return the card and his or her address and prizes were to be awarded to the balloon that had traveled the farthest distance.

The list of winners has been compiled and upon the return of the vacationers they will be announced. Rumor has it that one balloon did not even all the way to Philadelphia. Was it yours?

After spending six and a half months in Europe, the George Moon family of 672 Bradford Drive have returned home. To Moon, a designer for General Motors, it was a business trip.

FORTUNATELY his wife and daughter Anne were able to accompany him. The vacation was in no way less enjoyable. Anne is only 2 1/2, and it is doubtful that she will remember the many interesting cities they were able to visit.

Traveling by gondola in Venice proved to be quite a different mode of travel to the one they involved in the automotive business.

A most interesting collection of dolls from the various countries they visited are their most treasured souvenirs.

A FINE manner in which to entertain your friends is to invite them to a party on your boat. To make it even more interesting to plan it for a day when the boat will be part of a contest.

The bride's mother wore a pink silk linen gown, and the mother of the bridegroom chose blue raw silk for her dress.

A CHAMPAGNE reception at the Park Lane Hotel followed the ceremony. The bride changed into a shocking pink cotton travel suit, with light pink silk blouse and hat.

Birmingham guests at the wedding included Edward Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. James Irwin and Mrs. John Buick.

Miss Smith chose a gown of white silk linen for her wedding day. The dress had an A-line skirt.

Taft's Return from Wedding Trip

MRS. G. F. TAFT

Carol Ellen Smith and Gary Frederick Taft, both of Birmingham, will make their home on Graefield, Birmingham, after Sunday when they will return from a wedding trip to northern Michigan and Canada.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Douglas Smith of Toledo, Ohio, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Taft and the late Donald E. Taft of San Bonito, Texas.

The couple spoke their vows in a single-ring candlelight ceremony Saturday at Collingwood Presbyterian Church in Toledo.

Miss Smith chose a gown of white silk linen for her wedding day. The dress had an A-line skirt.

Brudford Jon is a young man who apparently believes in promoting the local economy.

Dr. and Mrs. William F. Stanley Jr. of 517 Westbourne welcomed the arrival of their new son, born several weeks ago at the New Grace Hospital on July 28.

Brother Billy was glad the new baby was a boy to even the score, having two sisters, Susie and Katie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carroll of Fairlane had hoped to spend some time with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Cuba of Grenada, Miss., when they came up from the states for an early summer vacation.

But the Cubas' time was limited, so they had to be content to entertain them with cocktails and dinner by Kingsley, on August 1.

THE FOLLOWING week the Carrolls and the daughter, Linda, and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Carroll, spent their vacation at Lost Lake Woods, near where the Carrolls are members of a private club.

Most of their week was spent golfing and swimming.

Mrs. Matthew McDonald of Parkhurst Drive and her sister, Mrs. Hugh Brewer of Grosse Pointe, left on Aug. 5 for New York where they met Mrs. James McDonald, who has returned to the states after having spent several months in Miami.

The women spent a week in the east shopping for fall wardrobes and just "having a good time."

Amateur Garden Show Planned by Area Club

By ELIZABETH VAN LOAN MI 7-2324

An amateur garden show is the program planned by the Brookfield Highlands Garden Club for its meeting on Monday.

Members, each bringing flowers from her own garden, will gather at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Leo Seidl, 2430 Turner Road.

From the National Music Camp at Interlochen where they spent several weeks, Nancy and Janis Phelps of Walnut Lake Road went on to the Methodist Church Choir Camp in Jeddo on Lake Huron.

AFTER leaving their daughters there on Aug. 5, Mr. and Mrs. John Phelps motored to Montreal where they boarded the SS St. Lawrence for a cruise down the St. Lawrence and Saguenay Rivers.

Upon their return to Montreal, they drove to Watertown to spend the night with relatives, then back to Jeddo on the 10th to pick up the girls and on home to Birmingham.

Last Saturday the Phelps entertained members of the adult choir of Trinity Methodist Church, Highland Park, and their children, at a swim party and picnic at their lake-front home.

HERE FROM St. Petersburg, Fla., for a visit with her daughter's family is Mrs. J. R. Taylor. She is staying with the Thomas Bewicks of Kingsmill Hill.

Kenneth Glendinning, 11, of Park Hill, Ont., spent last week with his cousins the Robert Piersons, of Middleton Drive, and the Piersons' daughter Sally, who is staying with the Kenneths' family in Canada.

THE FAMILY stayed in a cottage on Lake Rangeley for week where they swam and climbed some of the ridges in the area, picking wild raspberries during the excursions.

The youngsters were especially delighted when they spotted black bear, but were careful not to get too close to them.

They then drove down to Cape Cod, where they were joined by McNulty's sister and her husband, Kathleen, Daniel and Margaret, started a three-week motoring trip, destination, Maine. While driving east they stopped in Syracuse N. Y., where McNulty's mother, Mrs. Daniel J. McNulty, joined them.

Upon their arrival in the Flagstaff Lake region, McNulty and his mother were delighted to find that after 20 years the Cathedral Pine area completely unchanged and the landmarks, picnic areas and swimming spots were just as they had remembered them.

family reunion. The McNultys returned home after driving over 2,800 miles and acquiring an addition to their family, a kitten as yet unnamed, which was a gift from the children's cousins in New Jersey.

MR. AND MRS. Howard Sloan of S. Glengarry have enjoyed going to Lake Tippecanoe in Indiana so much that they have spent their 20th year vacationing there.

This year the Sloans spent the two weeks between July 21 and Aug. 4 at the lake with their children, Sally and Bill.

New Jersey was the state the Robert Mallocks of S. Cranbrook Cross headed for when they left on their vacation Aug. 3.

Their daughters, Ellen and Joanne, made the trip with them while the visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mallock of Union, N. J., and Mrs. Mallock's parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Pair Return From Trip

After returning from Niagara Falls and a visit at their cottage in northern Michigan, the Robert Beckemuhl's of 4800 N. Harbale are entertaining out of town guests.

Mrs. Beckemuhl's mother, Mrs. H. H. McGehee of New Orleans, La., and aunt, Mrs. G. W. Collins from Hammond, La., arrived in time to celebrate a family birthday.

The guests have visited Cranbrook the G.M. Tech Center and local churches.

The Beckemuhl's son, Kenneth, is hoping his grandmother and aunt will be here to help him celebrate his ninth birthday on Sept. 3.
