Susan Bitzer Begins Career With YWCA

Susan Bitzer, 2866 Comfort, Birmingham, gravitated between science and social science in her college preparation for a career, which began recently as new teen-age program director of Oakland Branch YWCA, Clawson.

A June graduate of Albion College, she concentrated on science during her first two years at Albion in preparation for a dental hygienist's career.

She switched to social science in her junior year, adding the Psychology and Sociology Clubs to her campus affiliations, which included the French Club, the Albion Student Council and Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She played the violin with the Albion Orchestra and was her sorority's song leader.

MRS. SKOW

Miss Blodgett And Mr. Skow Repeat Vows

Carol Ann Blodgett became the bride of James Robert Skow Sept. 7 at First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham.

Parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. James B. Blodgett, 1911 Crosswick, Birmingham. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John D. Skow of Toledo, O.

For the 4 p.m. ceremony, the bride chose a white peau de sole gown trimmed with seed pearls. Her shoulder-length veil was secured by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white eucharis and mums.

Honor attendant was the bride's sister, Eleanor M. Blodgett. Bridesmaids were Meredith Yahm of Fairfield, Conn., Lois Mason of Butler, Mo., Elaine Parrish of Milford, Mich., and Ann Speicher of Birmingham.

Local Boy Is Married to Pontiac Girl

At a ceremony solemnized Saturday in Oakland Park Methodist Church, Pontiac, Nancy Mae Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Robinson of Pontiac became the bride of Richard Glenn Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jeffrey Moore of Humphrey St., Birmingham.

MRS. MOORE

The bride wore a full-length gown fashioned with a controlled skirt, chapel train, bateau neckline and fitted bodice. Alencon lace accented the costume, which was completed by a bouffant veil falling from a headpiece of rosebuds trimmed in seed pearls. Her flowers were white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

THE ATTENDANTS, all of Pontiac, included Jean Davis, maid of honor; Barbara Stechow, Mrs. Michael Parent and Candace and Carol Love, cousins of the bride. They all wore pale pink silk organza over taffeta and carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses.

James Moore was his brother's best man, and seating the guests were Donald Charlier and Michael Connolly of Birmingham; Michael Egres of Lake Orion and Albert Swanson of Mt. Clemens. Cheryl Kay Moore, dressed identically to the bridesmaids, was flower girl and Robert Hudson was ring bearer.

The bride was graduated in August from Michigan State University and her husband is an airman second class with the U. S. Air Force stationed at Selfridge Field. They will be at home in Pontiac following a trip to northern Michigan.

AS A PSYCHOLOGY major, Sue pondered the possibility of working with retarded children, and briefly toyed with the idea of industrial counseling.

The 22-year-old director credits the suggestion of Dr. Charles (Papa) Swan of the Albion sociology department and the kindness of a "Y-Big Sister" during her freshman days for the decision to seek a "YW" career.

Sue's job calls for directing all branch activities for teenagers and coordinating the seven senior and junior high school Y-Team Clubs in this area, including the Birmingham Seaholm group. She is a 1959 graduate of Seaholm High School.

It's a Girl!

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Wood Flores (Gerlinde Anne-Marie Patzelt) of Phoenix, Ariz., announce the birth of a daughter, Sharon Lynn, born Aug. 31. The grandparents are Mrs. Josef Patzelt of Biedenkopf, West Germany, Mrs. Wood Flores of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Mr. Genaro Flores of Bloomfield Hills.

THEY WORE turquoise satin gowns with matching hats and face veils. Their bouquets were champagne colored carnations.

The bridegroom asked his brother, William J. Skow, to assist him as best man. Seating guests were John A. Skow, the bridegroom's brother from Newport, Vt., Brian A. Freeman, Erie, Pa., George B. Cook and James S. Hill, both of Toledo.

A reception and supper at the bride's home followed the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the newlyweds will live in Columbus, O.
