

LATHRUP-CRANBROOK VILLAGE Excitement Prevails In Local Families

By GLORIA JESSUP
MA 6-3257

Two young children caused excitement in two different families recently—in two different ways.

In the case of the Leo Stanley family of Lathrup Blvd., it was six-year-old Mark who caused concern.

The Stanleys were preparing to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary last Thursday. Their son Paul (Thomas 11th grade class) was home on leave from the Air Force in Texas.

Dinner plans were made with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jastrzebski of Edinboro. The other Stanley children had surprises of theater tickets, oysters and even surprise champagne to be served at the dinner.

BUT YOUNG CLARK had some excitement on his own. He was attending first grade and he decided to stop after school for a visit with his kindergarten teacher.

When he didn't return home on schedule and could not be found, the police and Mrs. Stanley (in slacks, curlers and all) went looking.

Mark didn't see what all the fuss was about. He just thought it was a whole day filled with tons of joy.

Little Debbie Neu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Neu of Rock Creek, had a different experience. She and her mother were visiting relatives in Rhode Island for the past month (with daddy coming up to travel with them).

While swimming in the ocean off the coast of Rhode Island, Debbie almost was bitten by a shark. No one realized that there was a wounded barracuda close to shore and that the shark was coming after it.

It was a near miss for Debbie and yet she too could not quite comprehend what all the excitement was about.

The Neu family traveled to Cape Cod, Boston and Niagara Falls before returning home.

THE CRANBROOK Village North Branch of the WNPMA had its first meeting on Monday at the home of Mrs. Hugh Clark on Bainbridge Drive.

Marshall Engle of Greenfield Village gave a talk on how to arrange flowers with fresh and dried materials.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McDonnell (she is co-chairman Joan McDonnell), spent three days at Mackinac Island last week attending the convention of the Michigan Municipal League.

They were among the elected officials from all cities in Michigan who were invited to attend the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mansfield and their three children of San Quentin returned recently from a before-school vacation. They spent four days with Mr. and Mrs. William Miller of Avilla at the Millers' cabin camp on Glen Lake.

Before coming home they stopped for a visit with Mrs. Mansfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fleming, at their summer home in Lewiston, Mich.

On Monday evening, the Mansfields were joined by Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols who are former Birminghamites. The Nicholases came down from Bay City for dinner and then to attend the play "Jennie" with the Mansfields.

The Village Players held their first meeting of the year last week and decided on the first play to be presented in November.

They will present "The Third Best Snow" by Eleanor and Leo Boyer, Helen Strout will direct.

Three charter members were honored the same evening. They were given plaques for ten years' service. They were Mrs. Elmer (Fitz) Crair, Mrs. Chuck (Fanny) Hulmer and Mrs. Richard (Penny) Cramer.

The Village Swim Club will have their closing swim party on Sunday from 2-4 p.m. Awards present will be made to members of the team at that time.

There will be several residents of Lathrup Village among the 25 exhibitors participating in the lawn exhibit to be held at the home of Mrs. George Brush on Cedar Bend Drive, Sept. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cassel of Rock Creek christened their new pool recently by inviting 26 of their friends for an afternoon swim followed by dinner.

Residents of Rock Creek Drive, Cranbrook Village, are hoping that Friday the 13th will be a lucky one and bring some good weather for the street dance which is planned for that evening.

"Charm In Action" classes will begin Sept. 23 at the Southfield High School at 7:30.

They are for housewives and career girls and are directed by Mrs. George Cummings.

They will include instruction on hair styling, posture, makeup and wardrobe. Registrations must be made at the school by Sept. 16.

Society Dept. deadline for all organizational news, weddings and engagements announcement is 5 p.m. on the Friday preceding Thursday publication.

Tradition Observed By Bride for Rites

Katherine Louise Mabley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Hollister Mabley of Bloomfield Hills and Richard Morgan Lyons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lyons of Poland, O., exchanged their marriage vows at four o'clock Saturday in Christ Church Cranbrook.

The bride wore the floor-length silk organza gown which had been worn by Mrs. Frank Mabley at her marriage to the bride's brother. Miss Mabley's veil, an heirloom, handmade Brussels lace mantilla, has been in the bride's family for five generations and was worn by her aunt, Mrs. J. J. Newcomb, and her grandmother, Mrs. Carlton R. Mabley, at their weddings. Miss Mabley's bouquet was of gardenias and stephanotis.

The Rev. Michael Nebitt officiated at the traditional double ring service, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

ATTENDING THE bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Frank Hollister Mabley, while Fred W. Lyons, Jr., brother of the groom, served as best man. Also attending the bride as bridesmaids were Mrs. William Romagosa of Syracuse, N. Y.; Mrs. Fred W. Lyons, Jr., sister-in-law of the bridegroom, from Des Plaines, Ill.; Katherine Patton of Birmingham and Jayne Newcomb, a cousin of the bride from Grosse Pointe.

Frank H. Mabley, Long Beach, Calif.; Ronald Sistrunk of Western Springs, Ill.; George Peoples of Harbor Beach, and John McFee from Poland, O., served as ushers.

The bridesmaids wore silk print dresses and carried cascade bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums emphasizing the yellow in their dresses, and the belts, shoes and tulle hats matched the moss green tones of the dresses.

FOLLOWING THE service, a reception was held at the Mabley home on Lowell Ct. Mrs. Mabley was dressed in a gold-colored silk peau de soie dress to receive her guests, while Mrs. Lyons was attired in beige chiffon.

The young couple will honeymoon in Canada. They will make their home in Columbus, O., while Mr. Lyons continues his studies at Ohio State University Medical School and Mrs. Lyons completes her field work assignment for the Smith College School for Social Work, where she has been doing graduate study. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lyons received their undergraduate degrees from the University of Michigan.

MRS. LYONS

Junior Group Busy Preparing Annual Antique Market

Summertime meant business as usual for Birmingham-Bloomfield, Grosse Pointe and Detroit members of the Jr. Group of Goodwill Industries, as they prepared for their 16th annual Antiques Market to be held Nov. 10-13 at the Goodwill Industries plant on Brush St.

Mrs. Norman Gilmore and Mrs. Daniel Carne organized canning bees for canned goods to be sold at the pantry shelf at the Antiques Market. Special gift baskets filled with an assortment of goods will be featured this year.

MRS. E. M. Gregory and Mrs. Thomas C. Fox managed to hold to their golf schedules while preparing and mailing letters to the patrons who lend their support to this project for the benefit of the handicapped workers of Goodwill Industries.

Between weekend trips to Michigan resorts, Mrs. Horace Prunk and Mrs. Clarence Kramer and their committee collected and tested recipes to be included in the Jr. Goodwill cookbook to be introduced at the show.

MRS. WARREN F. Kendall and Mrs. Robert H. Dodd made plans for the old-fashioned ice cream parlor they will manage at the November event.

Swimming and sun bathing conditioned Mrs. John F. Cole and Mrs. Robert Reid for their part of marshaling the electricians, sign painters and workers.

The telephone in the Canadian cottage of Mrs. Kenneth Wigle was kept busy with calls to and from her co-chairman, Mrs. John S. Hart.

Mrs. Paul Richmond and Mrs. Franklin Carr, co-chairmen of the 1963 market, have been planning with antique dealers for the show.

OTHER MEMBERS of the Jr. Goodwill include Mesdames George T. Wilde, Robert Bennett, Paul Mathewson, Harry J. Altick, Walter Biemann, Richard R. Bigley, Bill O. Brink, C. G. Brown, Robert C. Charlton, James M. Degnan, Sam B. McCool, George L. Dominic, Calvin J. Gauss and George Gotshall.

Miss Wiar is the daughter of the late Joseph C. Wiar. Both young people are students at Western Michigan University. Date for the wedding will be announced later.
