

Questions, Packages; End of Trip

By DONALD DENNIS
Special Writer

From London air terminal to Detroit was just a matter of a few pleasant hours, thanks to modern jet travel.

Before we had time to finish the London Times the wheels of our 707 were touching the Metropolitan airport's runway and our BOAC hostess was reminding us to fasten all seat belts, to refrain from smoking and to remain seated until coming to a complete stop.

Once the formalities of health inspection were over, we hurried down the ramp, loaded with hand luggage and eager to greet our waiting friends. We soon completed customs inspection and it wasn't long before we were able to hand over our luggage to a porter for the last time.

Our world trip behind us, we headed for home.

ONE OF THE first questions asked and one to be repeated several times since our return has been, "Which part of your trip did you enjoy the most?"

This is a question that probably has confronted everyone who has traveled extensively and one that we, truthfully, could not answer. Each area was unique in one way or another, and this variation is what succeeded in making our trip enjoyable.

EVEN NOW as we review our notes on the places visited, we are only able to generalize. For beauty, it's Hawaii; for color, Hong Kong and Bangkok; for friendliness, India and Spain; for sun the Riviera... and so it goes.

Another of the benefits of the long trip is the pleasure now of opening packages sent along the way. A carving from Taiwan, copper from Turkey, pottery from Greece all make the trip live again. Packages still are arriving weekly, and we are amazed to discover how effective the mail service is throughout the world. Our fears and misgivings in entering a foreign post office were unfounded as everything came through in spite of our mailing difficulties.

PREVIEWING and editing now are taking up our evenings as we go over the hundreds of slides and thousands of feet of film exposed during our travels.

In 16-millimeter alone, we now have edited our total trip down to slightly over three hours of continuous showing. The results are very gratifying and it will be a pleasure to review points of interest of our trip with students and friends throughout the coming school year.

A TRIP AROUND the world has made us realize how similar people's needs, likes and desires are, once the veneer of dress and locale is uncovered.

We met and made friends with many wonderful and warm people in every country. There is no doubt in our minds that we will make our trip again and renew many of our new acquaintances.

Driving too long at a stretch may shorten the distance between you and an accident. Fatigue and dullness quickly overtake drivers on throughways, according to the institute for safer living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co. When driving for some distance at higher speeds, be sure to make frequent rest stops. Get out, stretch, wash up, have some coffee or take a nap.

INVESTORS

Our company owns business frontage in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area. We have several responsible firms and individuals who wish to build a modern building for their business. Some require financing. If you have $25,000, $50,000, $100,000 or more to invest in a modern building, please telephone for further information. Our prospects are leaders in their business. DI 1-5009.

"OBJETS D'ART" from all over the world will constitute the "education materials" used in Bloomfield Hills High School art classes taught this year (and in years to come) by Donald Dennis, who returned last month from a seven-month trip around the world. Dennis is showing students in one of his classes a plate. The wood carving on the table is from the Philippines.

Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone, Atty., 318 Wabash Bldg., Birmingham

STATE OF MICHIGAN—The Probate Court for the County of Oakland.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Pontiac, in said County, on the 3rd day of September, A. D. 1963.

Present: Hon. Donald E. Adams, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of HUGH E. KEYS, also known as HUGH TALLMAN KEYS, Deceased.

The Conservation Commission, having filed a petition praying that an instrument filed in said Court be admitted that it is the last will and testament of said deceased and the administration of said estate be granted to Richard Irwin Keys and Robert Spencer Keys, the executors named in said Will, or to some other suitable person, and for determination of the legal heirs of said deceased.

It is Ordered, That the 30th day of September, A. D. 1963, at 9 o'clock, in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, is hereby appointed for hearing said petition.

It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy hereof, once each week, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Birmingham Eccentric, or newspaper printed and circulated in said County, and that proposed cause be given to all interested parties personally, or by registered or certified mail with return receipt demanded, to each of the known heirs at law, legatees and devisees at their last known places of address, at least ten days prior to said day of hearing.

DONALD E. ADAMS, Judge of Probate. (28-29-33)

(Annual publication required by statute of order previously adopted by the Conservation Commission.)

Recesses—Lower Penalties.

The Conservation Commission, by authority of Act 236, of 1955, an act to amend, hereby orders that for the period of five years from October 1, 1959, it shall be unlawful to trap raccoons in Zone 2 except from November 10 to December 15, inclusive, and in Zone 3 except from November 25 to December 31, inclusive, each year.

Approved July 9, 1959. (28)

Now that the automobile has become a way of life, tragically it is also becoming accepted as a way of death. An important reason for the rising highway death rate may be public indifference toward traffic accidents. The feeling that accidents always happen to the other fellow apparently is a part of the acceptance of a high automobile fatality rate.
