

Local Women Among Stars of 'Hemlines and Horsepower'

Twelve suburban and Detroit area women had a brisk modeling course last week and selected the rich furs they will wear in "Hemlines and Horsepower", the seventh annual fashion show for the benefit of the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Bloomfield Hills. The instruction program and fur selection took place in the Furs by Robert Salon, which is providing the fur collection for the show. Models of 1964 automobiles—from Chrysler, General Motors and Ford—will provide the foil for fall and winter design apparel from top American and European fashion houses during the show's afternoon and evening performances on the convent grounds, 1250 Kensington, Bloomfield Hills, Wednesday, Sept. 25. Along with the outstanding furs and dresses, students of the convent will present a full line of children's fashions by Ethel M. Pollock and hair styles by Geon's. The 12 ladies, wearing more than $75,000 in new furs, stretch for forty-cent hamburgers during a short break in their "How To Model" instruction by Robert Roberts. Left to right—it's Mrs. James P. Cumiskey, Jr., 471 Oakland, Birmingham; Mrs. Robert G. Fisher, 19720 Stansbury, Detroit; Mrs. John P. Finneran, 4811 Haddington Drive, Birmingham; Mrs. James H. Kemp, 2175 Squirrel Rd., Birmingham; Mrs. Don J. Stein, 1285 Twin Maples, Birmingham; Mrs. Joseph E. Risdon, 165 Harlan, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Philip J. Huber, 1724 Bassett Road, Royal Oak; Roberts; Mrs. James G. Shannon, Jr., 85 Devon Road, Bloomfield Hills; Carolyn Lindeman, 20131 Renfrew, Detroit; Mrs. Frank V. Cliff, Jr., 5629 Priory Lane, Birmingham; Mrs. Harry S. Nichols, Jr., 5675 Sussex, Birmingham, and Mrs. Norman J. Fredericks, 4219 Lasher Road, Bloomfield Hills.

Pint-Sized Interference?

Young Rob Roy McGregor of Birmingham takes a dim view of mom's divided attention, but she and Mrs. John Guernsey (right) don't let it stop them for one red hot minute from using the phone to promote Kappa Kappa Gamma's 1963-'64 bridge tournament. Kappas and their friends are urged to register now for this year's project, proceeds from which will be given to the Foundation for Emotionally Disturbed Children at Pontiac State Hospital.
