Little tots use that number their entries may wind up in the dead letter office—unless, of course, a thoughtful postmaster relays them to his local newspaper. (That's what Bollie Reese does here in Birmingham.)

"Wholesomeness" is the stated theme of the new Miss America. This splendid young girl from Arkansas is the daughter of a family whose Mom and Dad pay homage to the deccencies set forth in the Decalogue and the Beatitudes. Miss Donna Axum now possesses the personal opportunity to make a powerful impact upon U.S. youth . . . that she will achieve the maximum in this respect is the hope and prayer of millions of Americans.

One of the cutest, most fitting hints offered to the American public was a short paragraph in the Sept. issue of Changing Times, to wit: "We think it's commendable of Nelson Rockefeller to work so hard to get to run the country when he could just buy it."

Well, Well . . . so Winston Churchill and his Clementine have celebrated 55 years of married life! What a pair . . . what a flair "Winnie" has shown as a great world leader during the past half-century. This 88-year-young-old Britisher and his bride of 55 years ago weren't expected "to make it last very long", several prominent Britishers said at the time. But Mr. Churchill summed it up thusly: "What can be more glorious than to be united in one's walk through life with a being incapable of an ignoble thought? It would have been impossible for an ordinary man to have gone through what I have had to get through in peace and war without her devoted aid." What a wonderful tribute . . . to his "darling Clementine!"

ALLAN WERTHMANN

Midwest Post Accepted by Hills Resident

Allan Werthmann of Bloomfield Hills has been named as midwest special events director for the National Society for the Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency, Flavius N. Costerella, chairman of the board and an assistant attorney general for New York State, announced today.

Costerella said Werthmann would be responsible for enrolling members in the National Society throughout the Great Lakes region.

"We are fortunate to have Mr. Werthmann undertake the responsibilities of special events director. It will take a great deal of youthful vitality and dedication—linked to a positive national program—to have any effect on our spiraling youth crime rate," Costerella said.

IN HIS position, Werthmann will report to the National Society's executive director, John R. Winter, a former Detroit resident. Werthmann's immediate assignment is to obtain support for the organization's first major fund-raising event scheduled for November, headed by the National Society's Youth Activities director, Charlotte Ford.

A graduate of Michigan State University, Werthmann, a television actor-model, resides at 3175 Devon Brook Court, Bloomfield Hills, together with his wife, Charlotte, and two children.
