Rural roads may be quieter and more peaceful, but they are no place for napping at the wheel. Despite the congestion of city streets and the speed of throughways, a great number of serious accidents still occur on secondary rural highways.

Driver distraction or inattention is believed to be a leading cause.

THE SALVATION ARMY EMERGENCY LODGE WILL PUT A ROOF OVER THEIR HEADS... TAKE A LOAD OFF OF HER MIND.

Where do you go with little children when you've been left alone in a big city? No money. No friends. No place to stay? The Family Welfare and Emergency Lodge Division of the Salvation Army stays open 24 hours a day, seven days a week to handle such emergency situations. Not only for stranded mothers and their children, but for unwed mothers and runaway girls, too. The Salvation Army helps them, too, through its Eventide Home for the aged, Harbor Light emergency shelter and religiously oriented program for male alcoholics, Men's Social Service Rehabilitation Center, and Children's Home for orphans and wards of the courts. Your contribution helps 195 U.F. agencies, including the Salvation Army. GOOD THINGS HAPPEN WITH YOUR TORCH DRIVE DOLLARS.
