Natio of all Pupils to Teachers
NOTE: This report as published reflects the continued effort of the Board of Education to improve the quality of education in Birmingham. It indicates that progress towas is being made in keeping with the mandate of the people in November of 1961. Alth not always possible to see the reflection of quality education in a purely statistical repbe seen in two very important areas: (1) the percent of total expenditures being sper on instruction, and (2) the further reduction in pupil-teacher ratio,

The opening of two new elementary buildings and the partial completion of the Berkshire High School account for the increase in appraised value of school reporty. Also, it clear nontrates the growth still taking place in the school district. This growth coupled with the oreduce pupil teacher ratios are, of course, the major reasons for the necessary increasents.

Bloomfield Hills School District. #2 comprises approximately 28 square miles of territory. A fleet of 28 buses is used to transport students to attractive, moderate cost schools. Each school has a hot lunch program. Classes average 25 puglis with a range of 18 to 32 puglis.

The District's valuation is $108,976.829. The miliage tax rate for schools is 24.47. School construction has been maintained through public support, thus half day classes and oversize classes have been avoided. With about 50% of the land being used for homes, there is every indication of continued rapid growth. The last successful bond issue of four million, one hundred thirty-five thousand doilars has enabled the district to complete a new elementary school, an explicit public school, an abilition of the selfor high choice of the school are spirituded and the school are school and school and school and school are school and school are school and school are school and school and school are school are school are school and school are school are school and school are school and school are school and school are school and school are school are school and school are school are school and school are school are
