BOTH McGAUGHEY and Henry Booth, a founder and past present of the league, responded with tters to The Eccentric this week. McGaughey cited the league's accomplishments of 1963, including its part in a successful campaign for ratification of the new state constitution.

state constitution.

He felt that the Lane report gave only "a partial view of the work of the board and the involvement of members." He also pointed out that he had discussed with the Coro Foundation officers the posibility of further assistance to the CCL.
