Hunt Fairfax

Fifteen hundred area women are about to attend a tea party.

This opening gun of the year, socially speaking, revolves around the annual ladies’ luncheon planned by the Hunt Fairfax in conjunction with the Shelby County (Tennessee) Chamber of Commerce (next door) at 10 through 28 at Bloomfield Open House. Purpose of the Fair is to raise funds for Oldfield University’s scholarship fund, this year’s in honor of Mrs. Harold Hesseltt of Birmingham and Mrs. Ralph Norvell of Pontiac.

Checking out operation, it was determined by the ladies that one of the most successful and profitable ladies teas during former fairs was “Teatrams and Treasures.”

Hence, the plan for a series of teas during January and February with admission to be the donation of an article—or hopefully—articles to stock the railing shelves. Committee members gathered antiques, jewelry, and other attractive items which were later displayed on a treasure hunter’s dream. Making the season’s reception committee chairman of the hostesses was Mrs. B. R. Shanteel of Bloomfield Hills and her assistants Mrs. Harry Weissmann and Mrs. Tanya McCreary.

The teas are scheduled for the last of this month and early February. Participating will be Mrs. Charles L. Vinton, Mrs. Warren H. Booth, Mrs. Charles R. Smutz, and Mrs. Robert B. Dearth of Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Allen J. Dauson, Lake Angelus; Mrs. Harold A. Schuckman, Detroit; Mrs. Evelyn Span, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. William Carden, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. E. George Pinter, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Paul Blythe, Birmingham; Mrs. Arthur E. Burdett, Birmingham; Mrs. William B. Sievers, Birmingham; Mrs. Colin H. John, Mrs. Russell Neeley, and Mrs. John W. Johnson.

Orange Blossoms ‘n Tulip

Walding tells us about the orange blossom and the tulip, you’ll know, is the latter. It is a hostess or something of the sort, but practically nothing to do with the tulip. The orange is more familiar, and its name is derived from the color of the flower. The tulip is a popular flower, and its name refers to the shape of the petals. The orange blossom is also popular, and its name is derived from the color of the flower. The tulip is a popular flower, and its name refers to the shape of the petals.

Miss DeGennar

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel DeGennar is a truly magnificent one. The house was designed by the famous architect Frank Lloyd Wright, and it is considered one of the finest examples of his work. The house is a large, single-story building with a large central atrium. The interior is light and airy, with large windows and open spaces. The house is surrounded by a beautiful garden, with a pond and a fountain in the center. The house is located on a quiet street in a prestigious neighborhood, and it is a perfect example of the architect's work.
