BADMINTON BIRDS, THAT IS

It may surprise many local residents to know that a Birmingham-Bloomfield group has been engaged in "bird" sports for years. Since 1959, their games have been enjoyed by many in the community. The group meets weekly on Tuesday nights at the Birmingham Community Center at 7:30 p.m. They welcome new members of all ages and skill levels.

MRS. KENNETH V. Danieli, Birmingham's first local Badminton district club president, attacks the "bird" back over the net as Mrs. Low Anderson's right hand ready to return an opponent's shot. Members of the 31-year-old club practice every Tuesday night at the Birmingham Kippel Gym. The local club is one of the oldest in the country.
