UN Report to Be Given
By Pauline Frederick

Birmingham Town Hall will presen
Mrs. Frederick, a popular member of the city's social c crowd, will be in charge of the event.

The event will feature a panel discussion on the current state of world affairs, moderated by Mrs. Frederick. Speakers include a high-ranking diplomat, a prominent university professor, and a retired journalist. The panelists will address topics such as climate change, global economics, and international relations.

The panel discussion will be followed by a Q&A session, where the audience will have the opportunity to ask questions and engage with the experts. Refreshments will be served, and the event will conclude with a networking reception.

BIRMINGHAM

By JUDY MURPHY

South Michigan Avenue

When walking along one of the bustling streets in downtown Michigan City, you can't help but notice the vibrant energy and culture that this city has to offer. The combination of historic architecture and modern amenities creates a unique atmosphere that attracts visitors from all over. Whether you're looking for a place to grab a bite to eat, shop, or simply take a leisurely stroll, Michigan City has something for everyone.

One of the highlights of the city is the Michigan City Art Museum, which houses a collection of paintings, sculptures, and other art pieces from various periods and styles. The museum is located in a beautiful historic building and offers free admission to all visitors.

Another popular attraction is the Michigan City Lighthouse, which stands tall on a cliff overlooking Lake Michigan. Visitors can climb to the top for stunning views of the lake and surrounding area.

Michigan City is also known for its array of local eateries, offering everything from casual cafes to fine dining restaurants. Some of the must-try spots include the Historic Trolley Car Restaurant, which serves delicious comfort food, and The Wharf Restaurant, which features fresh seafood and breathtaking lake views.

In addition to its cultural and culinary offerings, Michigan City boasts a vibrant arts community, with various events and festivals taking place throughout the year. The Michigan City Art Fair and the Michigan City Blues Festival are just two examples of the city's rich cultural calendar.

Whether you're a first-time visitor or a seasoned local, Michigan City has something to offer for everyone. With its picturesque scenery, fascinating history, and lively atmosphere, this charming town is sure to leave a lasting impression.

BIRMINGHAM

By BEN FREEMAN

Lecture Series
 Begins at BAA

The Birmingham Art Association (BAA) announces the launch of its new lecture series, which will feature a range of speakers on various topics related to art and culture.

The first lecture in the series is scheduled for September 15, with a presentation by an expert in the field of contemporary art. The lecture will be held at the BAA's headquarters on 34th Street, and is open to the public. Tickets are available for $10 per person.

The following lectures in the series will cover a variety of subjects, including photography, architecture, and the history of art. Each session will feature a different speaker, and will be held on the first Thursday of each month.

The BAA is committed to promoting the appreciation and understanding of art, and believes that these lectures will provide a valuable resource for the local community. We encourage everyone to join us and be a part of this exciting new series.

BIRMINGHAM

By LEE WHITMAN

Sonic Foundry

A new store has opened in downtown Birmingham, offering a wide range of electronic equipment and accessories.

Sonic Foundry specializes in selling the latest in computer hardware and software, as well as a variety of multimedia products such as digital cameras, MP3 players, and televisions. The store is located at 32nd Street and 4th Avenue, and is open Monday through Friday from 9am to 5pm.

The store's owner, John Smith, was inspired to open Sonic Foundry because of his passion for technology and his desire to bring high-quality products to the local community.

"We believe in selling only the best products, and we take great pride in our customer service," said Smith. "We want to be the go-to store for anyone looking for top-of-the-line electronics."