Bloomfield South B'ham Farms Children Treated to Hayride, Party

By ELEANOR NELSEN MI 7-0656

The Birmingham Farms Association consisting of a number of families who earnestly believe in providing something for their youngsters.

On Jan. 25 some 30 children in the area with the proper number of chaperones met at the pump house to journey to the Upton Hill Farms near Oxford where they set out to enjoy a hayride.

Players had been distributed to the homes within the association boundary lines announcing the plans for the party which was primarily for the youngsters between the ages of eight to 15 and it met with so much enthusiasm that some had to be disappointed. Next year it's sure to be "get your reservations in early."

After the fun of the hayride the children were served a spaghetti and salad luncheon before departing for home. Recreation committee members who planned this delightful party were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Herkness, Mr. and Mrs. William Faxon, Mr. and Mrs. John Yacik, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Basin.

ARRIVING ON Jan. 17 from Dayton, O., was Mrs. Mary Cushman. She is visiting with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schaeffer of S. Glengary. Mr. Schaeffer recently spent a week in Florida, awarded him by the company by which he is employed.

Sally Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stone of S. Glengary and Shelly McLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McLean of Bassett Place, were among the students from Derby Junior High who spent the week end of Jan. 17 at Caberfae skiing.

The girls are members of the Camp and Trip Ski Club of the school. While up north they stayed at the Thunder Bird Lodge.

WHEN MR. AND MRS. James Black flew down to Florida on Jan. 10 they were anticipating a real rest, lying on the beach soaking up the sunshine and that sort of thing. To their dismay, they did not enjoy the finest weather so instead they became tourist travelers and went to the races, fished, and sought out the fine dining places.

After 10 days of "going," they returned home still seeking that "rest." It still isn't in the books for Mrs. Black who is a colonel in the March of Dimes.

She gave a coffee on Jan. 8, before going south for some time when he is captain for the Polo Drive. Mrs. Black's duties will terminate shortly and then she hopes to be able to truly relax.

COOKIE TIME is here again. Most everyone welcomes the sight of the Girl Scouts and the delicious cookies they offer at this time of the year, their annual project.

Troop 385 of the Westvond area and from the Booth School have Mrs. John G. Romney as their cookie chairman this year. Some 35 girls from the Booth School area will begin a door-to-door campaign on Friday, Jan. 31 which will last 10 days.

Mrs. Robert Carter is the troop leader and has as her co-leaders Mrs. Charles Swanson and Mrs. Thomas McVetty.

ANOTHER GIRL Scout Troop, 686 from the Westchester area, will also begin ringing doorbells offering their assortment of cookies. The girls are being briefed on sales approach by Mrs. Joseph Frahier, the troop cookie chairman.

Coleaders of troop 666 are Mrs. Robert Batchelor and Mrs. Robert Weir. On Jan. 25 there was a meeting of the Girl Scout mothers at the home of Mrs. Robert Weir on W. Bradford Drive to discuss an overnight campout to take place some time in April.

FLORIDA FOR Christmas was the aim of the P. Taylor of Dartmoor. They left on Dec. 22 with their son, John, a student at Ferris, to drive to Lake Worth, Fla., where they visited Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Taylor and also Mrs. Taylor's mother, Mrs. Helen Larson.

CALL IT coincidence if you will. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Grovett of Westbourne Drive hosted a party on Jan. 17 so that friends and neighbors would have the opportunity to say "good-bye" to

"Just a luncheon" when the hostess goes all out to make it something to remember. When Mrs. Charles Bodwell of Old Mill Road hosted a "farewell luncheon" on Jan. 23 for her friend and neighbor, Mrs. Henry Wolpert, who is moving to Brussels, Belgium, because of a transfer in her husband's business, Mrs. Bodwell carried out the travel motif to the "th" degree.

Beneath the daisy centerpiece were scattered travel folders. Place mats were maps, and place cards were stuck in small brassal aprons. The guests present were Mrs. Gordon Nyquist, Mrs. Robert Henderson, Mrs. James Bostwick, Mrs. Harold Boudreau, Mrs. James Harrington, Mrs. Duncan Augustine and Mrs. E. E. Reason.

The women presented Mrs. Wolpert with a piece of matched luggage. Instead of attempting to gift wrap the box they covered it entirely with travel stickers. The oldsters and their two sons, Billy and Craig, will be living in Brussels for 18 months.

THE R. REASONS and their two daughters, Pam and Christie spent the week-end of Jan. 17 at Boyne Highlands skiing. They had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson and their two daughters, Debbie and Jennie.

Mrs. Reason admits she was "petrified" after traveling in the lift chair to the heights of the slopes and took off in sheer desperation hoping to reach the bottom in one piece, but once on her way down found "skating just came naturally."

The following week end found the Reasons back at Boyne Highlands. This time it was strictly an adult party. Their guests were the Gordon Nyquists, James Bostwick and Harold Boudreau.
