Gravlin, an assembler, worked at the plant before he was committed to the hospital and returned after his release.
"He was always mild-mannered around here," said Stack. "There was never any indication of trouble at all. We discovered that alcohol would set him off in these rages, however."

WHEN ARRESTED in 1961, Gravlin was unable to give a reason for knifing his cousin's wife, Mrs. Sharon Gravlin, 1058 Henrietta, Troy.
Royal Oak Fire Chief Wilfred C. Speas remembered Gravlin when he worked for him as a fireman.
"He was a quiet man, seemed to get along well with his fellow workers, but wasn't a top-notch fireman," Speas said.

Candidate Bronson's Charges Labeled 'Purely Politics'

BY LARRY EVOE
City Editor

The Democratic Party's candidate for the office of prosecuting attorney has been conducting a type of campaign that has not been seen in Oakland County for some time.
S. Jerome Bronson, of Madison Heights has charged that his opponent, Robert L. Tempin, and the prosecutor's office in general have been unbecomingly over what he calls violence in the streets.

Tempin and Prosecutor Richard P. Condit have both termed Bronson's accusations "purely political."

IN A RECENT statement, Bronson called a street hearing of a Royal Oak youth "an unfortunate example that lawlessness and hoodlums cannot be tolerated anywhere in our country."

He asserted that disregard and disrespect for the law had become almost the "in" thing.

"When a prosecuting attorney does nothing about hot-rodders endangering our lives on the highway, when nothing is done when young punks scream insults at us from their cars on Woodward, these things, if unchecked, lead to worse occurrences of lawlessness," Bronson said.

HE SAID it was easy to "pass the buck" and say that such actions were local problems of enforcement, but he added that the prosecutor "is the chief law enforcement officer" in the county.
"Each police department looks to him for action and leadership," he said.

Condit, a Birmingham attorney is acting as prosecutor until the November election, acknowledged that he is the county's chief law enforcement officer and also expressed concern for lawlessness.

"However," Condit said, "I personally am under the impression that the local communities are doing a workmanlike job."

HE CITED the Birmingham and Moonfield Township police departments and courts as good examples of proper enforcement efforts.

Judge Emery (Municipal Judge John B.) with his policy of requiring persons receiving moving violations appear in court and the township with its radar unit are good examples of what is being done on the county level," Condit said.

"If I felt that local authorities were not doing the job they should, I could ask the state police to step in but I have no intention of doing so," he said.

CONDIT ADDED that with the limited manpower available to the individual communities they were "doing the best they can."

He agreed with Bronson that there is some disrespect for authority. This, Condit said, was evident in both the schools and on the streets.

This feeling Condit attributed to the breakup of family units and improper home training.

Tempin said Bronson's charges "further showed his ignorance of the job."

"This is a police matter and they are doing a fine job," Tempin said. He admitted, however, that there has been and is a problem along Woodward Avenue.

Tempin added that while Bronson was condemning the prosecutor's office for its handling of matters involving hot-rodders, he had in the past attempted to get back drivers licenses for two such offenders.

Public Library Plans Opening In B'field Twp.

According to Board President John D. Rumsey, Oct. 18 and 19 have now been set as open house dates for the new Bloomfield Township Public Library. Working with the library board as cohorts will be members of the Citizens' Library Committee.

Mrs. Ann Sheldon, chairman of the citizens' committee and recently elected to the library board will be liaison person and co-ordinator.

Plans are being made to invite the public to visit the Township library from 2:00-5:00 p.m., Oct. 18, and from 4:00-9:00 p.m., Oct. 19. In order for guests to examine the collection, view the displays and meet the library board and staff, no books will circulate during these two periods. The library will be open for regular use Oct. 20.

Mr. Rumsey reports that hours of opening have now been established for the new library: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, noon to 9:00 p.m.; Thursday and Friday, 11:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., and Saturday, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., a total of 49 hours a week.

ACCORDING TO Librarian Rose Vainstein, the initial schedule conforms with minimum requirements as set by the Michigan State Library. For communities the size of Bloomfield Township, the state has established 49 hours as the minimum standard. The board plans a study of service hours during the library's first several months of operation. Should public use indicate, and budget and staffing permit, the board may revise the schedule early next year.

The library, a rented facility, is located in the lower level of the Chateau Devon Building, 4038 Telegraph Rd. Two access roads are being made available to the public, one off Telegraph and a second, an easement road, off Long Lake. Suitable directional signs have been ordered and will be installed in time for the open house functions.

At approximately 2:15 p.m. the governor will arrive at the Miracle Mile Shopping center to participate in the autumn festival. Among the activities at the festival will be a stop at the Pontiac GOP booth.

Conclusion of the day's activities will be the 4:30 p.m. grand opening of the Pontiac Republican Headquarters.

Masons Aid Mental Health

The thirty-year old mental health program of the Scottish Rite Freemasonry is sponsoring research projects in 27 United States and Canadian hospitals and universities, received cash support in 1963-1964 from nearly ten per cent of the membership, with $423,000 in contributions.

This chief Scottish Rite benevolent, Com. George E. Bushnell reported, was cited during the year by the National Association for Mental Health for "providing medical science with the means to relieve millions of men, women and children from the torment of mental illness."

Dr. William A. Malamud, director of research for the National Association for Mental Health and for Scottish Rite program reported to Commander Bushnell:

"SCHIZOPHRENIA in infants and young children was almost unknown to medical science 30 years ago when the Scottish Rite research program began. Children were considered 'retarded' or 'brain-damaged' and were doomed to custodial care for the rest of their lives."

Michigan research includes projects in Detroit's Lafayette Clinic; Hawthorn Center, Northville, and the University of Michigan.

Com. Bushnell and Dr. Malamud made their reports to the 1,300 thirty-third degree masons holding annual sessions in Detroit's Masonic Temple ending today.

said "he indicated that he did kill his family."

LANG REFUSED to divulge the details of the statement because of Supreme Court decisions frowning on publicity before a trial.
The assistant prosecutor said Gravlin told him that he and his wife were considering a divorce and admitted that he had been drinking Sunday night.

The house was littered with beer, wine and whiskey bottles.
On a stand in the bathroom, a Bible lay open at the third chapter of St. Mark.

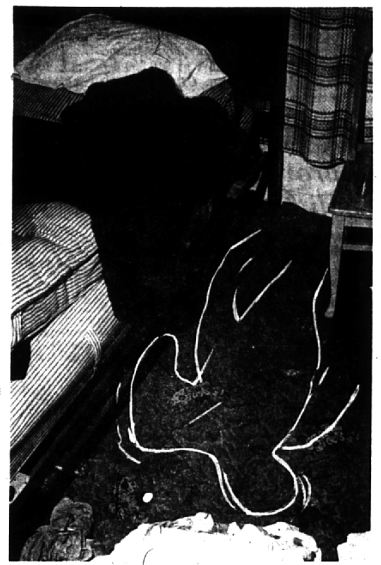

The fourth verse reads:
"And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life or to kill? But they held their peace."

And the 23th verse of the same chapter:
"And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand."
