Sacred Heart Student in Semi-Finals

By LINDA ALLEN
Special Writer

The school has been notified that one of our outstanding students, Margery Abbinck, has been chosen as a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Margery has participated in many school activities. Besides being the treasurer of the Duchesne Mission Unit, she has taken part in sports and is a member of the glee club.

Margery has recently written a play which will be presented on the Mistress General's holiday in late October. The cast will include Michele Russo, Margery Abbinck and Daria Lapehak.

FOLLOWING THE dramatic presentation, an active program is planned. Included in the events is a talent show directed by Kathy Westlake, assisted by Adrienne Szepeznianik.

Friday, Oct. 2, marked the opening of the field hockey season with a home game with GPUS. After the game a squad party was held at the home of Mary Jo and Annette Slavsky.

New cars and fall fashions were quite in evidence on Sept. 30, when the annual fall fashion show was presented by alumnae and parents. Most of the students in the high school helped with the presentation at both the afternoon and evening shows.

Many sold tickets, handed out programs, or assisted the models. Between the shows some of the girls and models had dinner at the Bloomfield Hunt Club.

IN THE MIDDLE School, The Literary Club officers have been announced. Carol Fisher is president, Mary Mahlmeister is vice president, and Suzy Judge is the seventh grade representative. The club is planning a literary to be held in late October.

Genius does what it must, and talent what it can.

"WE SERVE THE SUBURBS"

Why do we wrap things we're not going to move?

When we begin wrapping your stairway, don't get shook up.

We're not going to pack it into our moving van.

That wrapping is for protection only. Keeps your stairway from coming up with a batch of dents, nicks, and scratches. It also keeps your furniture from coming up with a batch of dents, nicks, and scratches.

After watching the way we worked, one lady actually said to us, "You Bekins men are fussier about taking care of my furniture than I am."

That's the way we feel, all right. We think it's our responsibility to not only look out for the furniture we move, but also for the house we go in and out of. We pad stairways. We cover floors with runners where we'll be tramping around. And we pad every piece of furniture with heavy blankets, as we put it on our van.

But this protection would be a waste of time if we didn't have one more thing: the best-trained moving men in the business.

Every Bekins man must go through a long, tough training period. He has to be plenty sharp to make it. A few men do. Those few are the kind of moving men the lady above was talking about.

They're good enough to move anything without all that wrapping. But they know better than to chance it.
