GLENWOOD PLAZA—North Perry at Glenwood, Pontiac

More B'ham Families Earning Over $4,000

(Special to the Eccentric)

NEW YORK—A new study of income brackets reveals that more families in Birmingham are in the "over $4,000" categories and fewer in the lower income groups than in most communities in the United States.

Locally, the trend in recent years has been toward larger incomes, with the result that many families have been moving into higher brackets than they were in before.

Just where they stood at the beginning of this year is brought out by Sales Management in a copyrighted report. It details, for every area of the country, what portion of its population falls within each of the income categories.

THE REPORT gives clearer meaning to the term "average income," as applied to a particular community. It shows whether "average" stands for earnings that are well dispersed among a majority of the people or whether it represents a small proportion of families with very large incomes compensating for those with marginal incomes.

In Birmingham, the spread is relatively good and the general level higher than in most places. After payment of their taxes, some 88.8 per cent of the local household had disposable incomes of $4,000 or better in the past year.

This compares favorably with the figures given for the United States as a whole, where only 60.7 per cent of the households had net incomes over $4,000. For the State of Michigan it was 68.2 per cent.

THE SURVEY shows that more than 10 million households in the United States are now in the $10,000 or over class, as against 1.2 million back in 1960. Each year, for the past 12 years or so, some 750,000 families have been graduating into that choice income region.

To a large degree, it has been due to the increasing entry of wives into the labor field. Their earnings have added greatly to the family till.

As to other income groupings in Birmingham, the breakdown lists 14.8 per cent in the $7,000 to $10,000 bracket, 18.6 per cent in the $4,000 to $7,000 class and 5.3 per cent with incomes of $2,500 to $4,000.

Southfield League In Finance Drive

Promoting political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government is the primary purpose for the existence of the League of Women Voters.

Thus the Candidates Fair held recently at the new Southfield Parks and Recreation Building was an activity geared to fulfilling that purpose. With almost 20 candidates and 200 voters present in an informal get-acquainted atmosphere, the venture was deemed very successful.

ANNUALLY, IN the fall of the year, League units approach the members of their local business community and other interested citizens for financial assistance in furthering their work.

The Southfield League began its finance drive on Sept. 28. Its members are now personally contacting prospective contributors.

Onyone interested in assisting the League financially may mail a contribution to the League of Women Voters of Southfield, c/o Mrs. Robert Borden, 27680 Lathrup, Lathrup Village.

Two City Residents Voted Into Office

The Michigan chapter of the Society of Former Special Agents of the F.B.I. Inc., elected officers at its annual meeting at Brighton recently.

William Miller, 29550 Bristol Lane, is the secretary. Cecil Nickel of 938 Westchester Way, Birmingham, was selected as the Michigan chapter delegate to the national convention in New York City Oct. 1 thru 3.
