

The Birmingham Eccentric

BIRMINGHAM, MICHIGAN
Thursday, October 8, 1964

The Bible declares to the reader that obedience to the laws of God, together with an understanding consciousness of them, will reward one with "the peace that passeth understanding." How wise is that provision concerning this "peace," so that no place on this earth can one be able to offer part or all of his fortune to acquire this "peace." It is, after all, only attained by the courage of Virtue! (CRA)

Christ Church Set For Rummage Sale

The annually anticipated rummage sale at Christ Church Cranbrook will take place Thursday, Oct. 29, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. This is the thirty-third rummage sale put on by the Episcopal church women who service various charitable projects in our area.

The Rev. Gerald B. O'Grady of Christ church says "A rummage sale is a bargain hunter's delight and a budget stretcher's assistant. A rummage sale is also a good Christian stewardship and an exercise of cooperative relationships. Not only does this sale produce a large revenue for the support of agencies beyond the Parish, and a further useful life for discarded objects, but also, opportunity to form friendships during the weeks of sorting and pricing."

THE SALE IS held in the Guild Hall, the dining room, classrooms, the Court yard—and even in the furnace room... any place where there's an inch of space!

You may see for sale a mink stole, a washing machine, ski boots, or a matless sewing. Lunch, stand-up style, is served to the workers in the kitchen, while coffee and sandwich wagon supply refreshment to shoppers.

Co-chairmen for sale are Mesdames Robert A. Geop and Calvert Thomas. Assistant are Mrs. Robert Bates, Mrs. Joseph Wright, Jack Klarr, Robert Weir, Mrs. Spencer Henshey, Mrs. Richard Kelly and Mrs. Russell Bolans. Others are Mesdames William F.
