

Kirkwood Bridge Tournament To Aid Emotionally Disturbed

By ELIZABETH VAN LOAN
MI 7-2324

Kirkwood's bridge tournament for the benefit of the Foundation for Emotionally Disturbed Children got under way Friday night with 22 couples in the mixed bridge league meeting at various homes throughout the subdivision.

Twenty-eight women have signed up for the afternoon league, and another 16 for an evening league.

All groups will meet once a month through May, omitting the month of December.

New people in town, and those who didn't get around to signing up, are invited to put their names on the substitute list. If you're interested, call chairman Mrs. Paul McGrath of Quanton Road. It's a grand way to meet your neighbors and make new friends.

is "Story Book Fantasy." Mrs. Mahler is general chairman of white elephants and her booth is labeled "Treasure Island."

Mrs. O'Sullivan is dividing her time between the fruit-cake stand and "Babes in Toyland," the toy booth, of which she is co-chairman.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Spencer, recently returned to their home in Pompano Beach, Fla., after a three-week visit with their daughter and her family.

Despite company and carnival, Mrs. O'Sullivan found time to do over her kitchen and family room, by herself, including painting the ceiling, and papering. What a girl!

The ladies' evening bridge group in New England Estates met at the home of Mrs. Art Moran, E. Newland Drive, Wednesday night.

LUCKY KENT Schermerhorn! His birthday usually coincides with the Michigan Education Association's annual conference. There was no school last Thursday, so to celebrate his 12th birthday, Kent invited 10 friends to an afternoon of bowling at Strike 'O' Spots, then home to Old Orchard Drive for cake and ice cream.

His parents, the Neale Schermerhorns, were in East Lansing, Oct. 10 for the Michigan-Michigan State game with the Robert Gammans of Melton Road and the Robert Millers of Flint.

Following Michigan's defeat of the Spartans, they had dinner at Kingsley Inn.

Overnight guests of the Schermerhorns last week were his aunt and cousin from Iowa, Mrs. Fred Roland and Miss Ruth Roland, and his sister, Virginia, from Dayton, O.

MR. AND MRS. John Kodrich of Darramond Road, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry LeBlanc of Allen Park, the Walter Gormans and the Adam Boraskis, covered 86 miles on the Oct. 10 treasure hunt which led from Cranbrook Country Club to the Cooley Lake area.

The Joe Koszkas with friends from Farmington and Royal Oak were also on the hunt and came in fourth.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN D. Mulford, Jr. of Inveray Road returned last week from a 10-day stay in New York City. They spent several days at the World's Fair and stopped off in Pittsburgh on the way home to visit friends.

George Bywater, also of Inveray Road, won an RCA portable television set at the last golf outing of the Detroit Advertising Association held at the Detroit Golf Club, Oct. 2.

There are so many women in the area actively engaged in the Christ Child Carnival at Cobo Hall it would be difficult to mention all of them but perhaps one of the busiest is Mrs. R. E. Reason of Old Mill Road, who is the Birmingham chairman of the affair.

Today, the women will all converge at Cobo Hall to take up their assigned duties. Mrs. William Kenyon of Middlebury Lane has charge of the awards booth.

It was found that Mrs. James McDonald of Middlebury Lane made pencil holders from left in the shape of a duck so she has been cutting away like mad for weeks until she feels like "quacking" herself.

HER MOTHER-IN-LAW, Mrs. Matthew McDonald of Parhurst, has been busy with dolls and it is said that the dolls are "simply out of this world." Mrs. James Barlow of Shawwood Drive and the gigantic job of the advertising which she handled beautifully.

Knitting needles clicked like mad at the Peter Gordon home on Devonshire Drive. Mrs. Gordon has charge of the knit sweater arranging.

Mrs. Gene Green of Shellmar Lane has practically taken up residence at the Christ Child School where she is coordinating her wares as chairman of the toy booth.

"WELCOME BACK" party is being planned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matousek of Middlebury Lane these days for their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Adams, who will be taking up residence in the Greenfield apartments about Nov. 1.
