On Monday evening, Detroit Country Day School will hold its fourth annual parent's night and open house. This evening is one more effort by Country Day to implement its philosophy of working closely with the parents of its students spanning grades kindergarten through 12.

Approximately 550 parents are expected to attend the night from 7:20 to 9:45. The parents will begin the evening by touring the facilities.

Following they will gather in the gymnasium to hear addresses by Headmaster Dr. W. Rodman Stelling and one of Country Day's trustees, James M. Tenney who will speak on "Alterations and Developments" and "The 50th Year."

THE PARENTS will follow their children's class schedules and attend each class for ten minutes. In these sessions the teachers will outline their courses and answer questions from the parents regarding the objectives and methods of the class.

A highlight of this part of the evening will be an art exhibit. The lower school parents will see a demonstration of the French program that begins in the kindergarten.

Phi Delta Theta Alums Hosted in Birmingham

More than 75 members of the Phi Delta Theta Alumni Club were in attendance at the annual fall meeting, held this year at the home of Judge W. Bearden, 2169 Tottenham Road, Birmingham.

Following a social hour and buffet dinner, Club President Doug Kelly, Jr. announced the appointment of officers, which included the following Birmingham residents: William McNary, vice president; Wes Bearden, secretary; Dave Krupp (Beverly Hills), reporter; and Vern Rogers and Roger Crimmins, membership committee.

HIGHLIGHT of the evening was the introduction of the "Golden Legion" members, who have celebrated 50 years as members of the fraternity. Among those honored were H. P. Following a business meeting, which featured a speech by Ray Blackwell, national alumni secretary from fraternity headquarters in Oxford, O., Detroit Lion football star Wayne Walker, alumnus from University of Idaho, was introduced.

Concluding the evening's festivities was a film shown by Dan Gallagher, also of Birmingham.

'Woodwarding' is On, Police Arrest Twenty

All of the violators were apprehended on Woodward Ave. generally between Madison and the northern city limits.

The offenses ranged from 60 miles per hour in a 45-mile zone to a high of 75 miles per hour.

Municipal Judge John Emery has ordered all of the offenders to appear in court on either Nov. 13 or Nov. 18.
