C of C Sponsors Education Day In Birmingham

Birmingham's first Business and Industry Education Day, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, will be observed Thursday, Nov. 5.

The purpose of the all-day program is to bring about greater understanding and cooperation between businessmen and educators of the community.

A joint committee composed of chamber members and administrators of the Birmingham School System has worked out a program which is designed to become an annual event.

For the first year, the committee has chosen to invite 50 school administrators, including principals, directors, coordinators and counselors to be guests of industry, retail establishments and financial institutions for a schedule of visitations.

These visits will include tours of the various facilities and talks on the problems involved in operating the respective types of businesses.

IT WAS THOUGHT that such a program would be helpful to the educators in presenting various courses in the school curricula.

The committee plans to reverse the process on Education Day of Michigan Week, 1965, and have a program in the schools for a visitation by the businessmen of Birmingham.

The chamber committee and educators who have planned the program are Arthur Lake, chairman, Frederick Thompson, Daniel Nesbitt, Walter Piel, Richard Turner, Richard Massengill, Ronald Ward, William Yaw, Evelyn Kelley, Louise Couture and Knowles B. Smith.

Riley received training in the use of business machines and in facets of the Army personnel management program. The 17-year-old soldier entered the Army in June 1964. He attended Seaholm High School. Before entering the Army, he was associated with Riley's Striping Co., Birmingham.

Teen Serves Seaholm In Host of Activities

BY DICK SWANEY

Kathy Kennedy is described by her teachers and fellow students as a girl with not only charm and character but also drive and leadership.

She has proven these qualities numerous times by her constant service to Seaholm High School. Last year she was secretary of the junior class, chairman of the Field Day banner committee, chairman of the invitations for J-Hop, secretary of Aquabelles and a member of Cicerone Club for service.

KATHY KENNEDY
Teen Consultant

With all these activities, Kathy still maintained the position of top swimmer in Seaholm's annual spring water ballet.

THIS PAST SUMMER Kathy had the honor of being selected to go abroad on the American Field Service Program. Her destination was Singapore, Malaysia and she recalls it as a fascinating and marvelous experience.

Currently Kathy is serving as secretary of Student Congress and president of Aquabelles. She maintains an A average in her academic studies and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Upon graduation next June Kathy has the University of Michigan in mind for her further education. She has a career in teaching planned.

Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Kennedy, 322 Wembleton, Birmingham.
