

Twp. Library To Celebrate Book Week

Bloomfield Township Public Library will join other facilities across the nation Nov. 1-7 in the annual celebration of Book Week. New or specially illustrated children's books will be featured throughout the week, according to Rose Vainstein, township librarian.

THEME of this year's celebration is "Swing Into Books." Rebecca Lamb, township children's librarian, will display several colorful Book Week posters along with special booklets of interest to parents and teachers. Bookmarks will be available for distribution to children.

Titles in the American Association's "Notable Children's Books of 1963" will also be exhibited as part of the library's display. Notable books are selected annually by the Children's Services Division of A.L.A. in cooperation with children's librarians in 16 major cities. Titles selected represent the outstanding books of the previous year, and provide reading suggestions for children of all ages.

Also on display will be other children's books, especially those which over the years have been given special awards. The Caldecott Medal, first awarded in 1938, is given to the artist of the most distinguished American picture book for children which was published in the United States during the preceding year. The name comes from Randolph Caldecott, famous English illustrator of books for children, because his work best represents the "joyousness of picture books as well as their beauty."

Redeemer Lutheran Sponsors Potluck
The Women's Society of Redeemer Lutheran Church will hold a potluck luncheon on Thursday, Nov. 5, at 12 noon in the Fellowship Hall of the church, honoring all members who have joined the congregation since the first of the year. There will be a short business meeting and miscellaneous program following the luncheon. Mrs. William Hendrickson, chairman, is being assisted by the following committee in making the arrangements: Mrs. Otto Moike, Mrs. H. Hesselberg, Mrs. Duane Wiegman, and Mrs. W. Splittwasser.

THE NEWBERY Medal Award, begun in 1921, was started as an incentive toward better quality in children's books. It, too, is awarded annually, and to the author of the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children during the preceding year. The medal is named after John Newbery, noted 18th century publisher and writer of children's books. The township library, located in rental facilities at 4036 Telegraph Road, is now open for service. Hours are as follows: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday from noon until 9 p.m., Thursday and Friday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The library's telephone number is 647-4545.

Ask Youths to Share Halloween Candy

Children who have an overflow of candy following "trick or treat" may share their bounty with the children of the Oakland County Children's Center, 1200 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac.

The children of the home can't go out and "trick or treat". Candy may be left at the Oak Park home at 24231 Gardner, of Mrs. L. H. Landau, a volunteer worker at the center.
