Small World—Neighbors Meet at London Cafe

By GLORIA JESSUP

Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills are no different from people the world over.

It is such fun to get out of the same surroundings and see new places and people. But, during the vacation we all tend to look for a familiar face from home.

Just such a meeting was planned by the John McKee, Jr., of Wing Lake Road on their recent trip to Europe. They met the Pearson Smiths of Bloomfield Village who have been in England with their four children for the past year and will remain there for the next two.

Their home away from home is just outside of Birmingham.

FORMER RESIDENTS of Bloomfield Village visiting the Smiths at the same time were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drummond, now of River Station, Fla. So, it was like "old home week" when the three couples met at the Gunma in London for dinner and all-together visit.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee combined just three days of business attending the auto shows in Paris, Geneva and London. The remainder of their four-week stay abroad was spent touring Ireland, England, Paris, Athens and Rome.

The McKee's son, airman second class David McKee, joined his parents in Athens. The trio then went by car through Florence, Venice, Stresa and Geneva. David then returned to his station in Turkey and the McKees returned to the area after an eventful trip.

THE MEIRMAKERS Dance Club held its first dance of the 1964-65 season at Orchard Lake Country Club Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Souter of Bloomfield Village and their weekend house guests from Indianapolis, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lewis (Mr. Souter's brother-in-law and sister) stopped at the James Cahills on Shelburne Lane for cocktails preceding the dance.

Other couples attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Holtrap, Mr. and Mrs. John Carman, Mr. and Mrs. William Carrick, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mardock and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rankin.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Webster have returned to their Oakgrove Drive home following a week's vacation at Greenbriar. The F. C. McMaths of Bloomfield Village also attended the steel convention and like the Websters combined business with pleasure.

THE STILL MEADOW Garden Club will convene for a morning meeting on Nov. 10 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Hatlen on Burning Tree Drive. In the evening the members will tour the "Ball of Wax" in Birmingham.

Last Tuesday the garden club held the second of its fund-raising telephone bridges. Hostesses were Mrs. Raymond Flynn, Mrs. Louis Neuman, Mrs. Eric Horst, Mrs. Gerald Marlott and Mrs. Benjamin Stabile. Proceeds from the bridge play will be used to beautify the entrance of Still Meadow, the plans of which will be presented at the Nov. 10 meeting.

PEABODY ORCHARDS swed-lasts received their invitations last week for the forthcoming
