til the young emerge, whereupon they climb to her back which acts as a living baby carriage.

THE EGGS of the nursery-web spider are held on the jaws of the female until the young are ready to emerge. Then she suspends the sac from some weed or shrub, where she weaves a silken nursery around the surrounding leaves.

Within these varied egg cocoons, the newly hatched young pry upon each other so that only the most vigorous survive. Although they hatch within 10-14 days, they remain in the sac up to six weeks.

Spiders have a rigid body wall so that the growth pattern of the young is punctuated by a series of molts during which the skin is cast off five to eight times, changing the size, form, proportions and color of the Arachnid before it becomes an adult. Thereafter, a single yearly molt suffices.

Winter's cold erases large numbers of spiders. Others may live for several years, hibernating in

Daughter Performs In Wayne's 'J.B.'

Detroit resident Kathleen O'Bannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Bannon, 28509 Selkirk, Southfield, will portray Mrs. Leasure in "J.B." at Wayne State University's Bonstelle Theatre.

Archibald MacLeish's 1950 Pulitzer Prize-winning version of the story of Job opens at the Bonstelle at 8:30 p.m. Friday. Additional evening performances are Saturday and Nov. 19-21. A matinee is scheduled for Nov. 20.

(More about spiders in next week's column).

Chess Clubs Seek New B'ham Group

The Metropolitan Detroit Association of Chess Clubs now has room for one more team, in the Birmingham area, according to Frederick G. Bahr, 540 Beryon, Birmingham.

Bahr is helping to organize the local club. He has asked interested persons to write him at 770 S. Adams, Birmingham, enclosing name, address, phone and previous chess-playing experience.

Oscar Abel of Royal Oak is association president.

New Book Perfect For Flower Lover

By ALICE WISNELS HURLINGAME
Special Writer

The bells are ringing in our heads these days as we approach the holiday season and the gift list we see ahead.

Can you remember the time when the merchants had a pact not to display Christmas goods until after Thanksgiving? I don't know if we spend any more money due to the early, colorful, tantalizing displays of gifts, each one we wish we could keep and not give away.

If you have a gardener on your list who arranges flowers with a flourish, you will want to consider the book "Flower Arrangements Throughout the Year" by Patricia Easterbrook Roberts. This book would be especially helpful for the new convert to this phase of beauty within the home who wants to develop a feeling of what is right in a hospitality table with the right linen, silver and flowers.

The many attractive color as well as black and white plates can't help but develop a feeling of knowing when an arrangement has just the right combination of flowers in it to achieve beauty.

MRS. ROBERTS, author of this beautiful gold-covered book, is a former Detroit resident and known by many as a friend.

For many years she has been identified with House Beautiful, Vogue and Interior Design. She is from Australia and for years managed Constance Spry's enterprises in London and New York.

She is considered to be one of the outstanding designers for the home and lectures annually all over Europe and the United States.

Currently a group of Birmingham women are working as volunteers with patients at Pontiac State Hospital to create holiday gifts with a flare so they can have money of their own for remembrances.

DREAM SITE

LOCATION

In the City of Bloomfield Hills in secluded Hillwood Estates—close to the Hunt Club and with a glimpse of Vhay Lake, this handsome BI-Level is set on a wooded, sloping acre-plus ravine and surrounded by equally fine homes.

LIVING AREA

Custom-Built of the finest materials and with superb workmanship, the design and floor plan are unique in that all rooms have a magnificent "view" all year-round.

On the first level is a large living room which steps down to the charming Dining room with its circular bay overlooking the lower terrace. The 3-way fireplace is visible from the living room, the Kitchen and the Family room—which room wraps around the Kitchen and opens to the upper-level terrace with its outdoor fireplace and barbecue.

The Kitchen is more than complete with all built-ins and many "extras" for convenience. There are two Bedrooms, a full Bath and Lav on the first level. (Master Bedroom has its own dressing room).

There are two Bedrooms, full Bath and charming Terrace Room on the lower-level, opening to the black-paved terrace which is enclosed with low brick wall and flower boxes. The 3-car Garage has electric openers.

QUALITY INCLUSIONS

To name just a few—concealed bar, air-conditioner in Family room; walk-in cedar closet; dimmer control for light fixtures; Pella windows with rollaway screens and permanent storms; custom draperies and carpeting. (Just for information the lower terrace, drive way and retaining walls represent an investment of almost $7,000.)
