LADY BETTY FLUFF PRUNE JUICE DELIGHT

Habits seem to fall into just two categories . . . good and bad. And it's the good ones we all try for. A habit starts out like a cobweb, tenuous and easily broken, but eventually it's a strong steel cable. So it's natural to start our children and families out with only good habits, especially where their health is concerned.

Breakfast is one of our family's good habits, and by that, I mean that although we vary the style of eggs and the kind of cereal, we always have Lady Betty Prune Juice to start the meal. In fact, Lady Betty Prune Juice is one habit we have that was easy to start because the flavor is so rich and delicious that we all love it. Of course, keeping a supply of Lady Betty Prune Juice in the refrigerator to drink for breakfast (and sometimes one of us likes another glass before bedtime) inspired me to try a new recipe using it. Considering how much we like the flavor, it seemed logical to use it in cooking, too. We call this one Lady Betty Fluff, and it's either a salad or a dessert, depending on whether you plan to serve it on crisp lettuce with a tart dressing or garnished with whole cooked prunes and whipped topping.

2 cups Lady Betty Prune Juice
1 envelope plain unflavored gelatin
1 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 1/2-cup package cream cheese
Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup of Lady Betty Prune Juice. Heat 1 1/4 cups of the Lady Betty Prune Juice and dissolved gelatin mix in it over very low heat. Add lemon juice and chill till partially set. Whip cream cheese remaining 1/4 cup of prune juice and gently fold into the mixture. Chill until set in mold or small dishes.

If you'd like to add fruit to this well-drained black cherries are especially good. Add if you plan to use cooked prunes as a garnish, pit and stuff them with cream cheese first.
