Unit two years ago, the uttering of a simple non-secular prayer in our public schools was accepted, with approval, by the U.S. Supreme Court held that such a tradition violated the First Amendment, something very fundamental has dropped out of the lives of millions of children. Is it not time that our citizens, through legislative action, restore this God-given tradition? Is a God-less Court legal in America? (G.R.A.)

Canon Bryan Green Speaks at Kingswood

By MARY JANE HILDER
Special Writer

The Kingswood student body was privileged to be addressed by the Rev. Canon Bryan Green in assembly on Nov. 13. Canon Green is from Birmingham, England, where he is rector of St. Martin's Church and canon of the Birmingham Cathedral.

After the assembly, juniors and seniors were invited to participate in an informal discussion with Canon Green.

The field hockey season was officially closed at Kingswood on Nov. 13 when the two varsity teams played their last game against Grosse Pointe Convent.

THE FIRST team ended the season with a 3-2 victory, while the reserve tied, 1-1. Cakes and doughnuts were served to the players afterward in the gym.

Kingswood also participated in Hockey Playday, held this year at Bloomfield Hills Convent on Nov. 7. Each girl played in three games, two as a member of a school team and one in which the forward lines and defenses of different schools were combined.

After lunch the girls were shown movies of hockey games taken between eight and 10 years ago, including pictures of the coaches of several of the school teams.

During this time selectors who had watched the girls play during the morning were choosing girls for the All-Detroit team.

Although Kingswood did not do as well in this respect as she has in previous years, four girls—Mary Weir, Sherry Strickland, Sue Duryea and Stephanie Guething—were placed on the All-Detroit second team.

From the reserve team, Marilyn Manuck was chosen for the All-Detroit reserve team and honorable mentions were awarded to Jackie Doner and Mary Jane Hilder.

KINGSWOOD IS interested in intramural hockey as well as interscholastic. The varsity reserve hockey team challenged the faculty to a game after school on Nov. 5. No score was made by either team during the 20-minute game.

Hold Patriotic Assembly At Berkshire Junior

By SUE DICKSON
Special Writer

The Berkshire PTA and the American Legion has given classroom flags to our school. These gifts were acknowledged on Wednesday when an assembly to inspire patriotism was held at Berkshire.

Included in the program was a demonstration of proper display of the flag given by Boy Scout Jim Wagner and assisted by Jim Phillips, Brian Brooks and Marc Factor. The history of the National Anthem was then related, followed by a playing and singing of the anthem by our school band and choir.

Our speaker, General S. L. A. Marshall, has written several books, the latest of which is "World War I."

"WHAT EDUCATION Means to Me" was the topic of the essay contest celebrating American Education Week. The winner was Steve Jacobson. Susan Nugent and Nancy Bailey received honorable mentions. Also included in the activities for American Education Week was an open-house with more than 1,000 enthusiastic parents causing a traffic jam. During the day, guided tours were held to familiarize parents with our school facilities.

Athletically speaking, Berkshire has gone all out. To bring the successful football season to a close, the Trojans presented Coaches Hundley and Francis with autographed footballs. Basketball try-outs are now under way and competitive swimming meets will start in the near future.

AFTER TWO successful performances of "The Ghost of Rhodes Manor," the members of the Berkshire Drama Club, the Thespians, are now at work on their latest project, a pantomime to the music of our approaching Christmas assembly. New members to the club were initiated at a casual rider and doughnut party.

Anderson Award Presented To Seaholm Quarterback

By KATHY PORTER
Special Writer

Dick Swaney was recently announced as the recipient of Seaholm's coveted John D. Anderson Award. The announcement was made during the annual fall sports assembly Nov. 17, which honored and recognized outstanding members of both the football and cross country teams.

The John D. Anderson Award is a memorial to an alumnus of Seaholm. John D. Anderson was an outstanding athlete and was highly regarded among his classmates. He was killed in an airplane crash while en route across the country. This award is given to the football player each year who most resembles John D. Anderson in athletics as well as leadership. Dick was chosen by his teammates, by last year's letter winners and by Coach Lemle for possessing these qualities plus ability, cooperation and scholastic standing.

ALSO AT THE FALL sports assembly, Coach Lemle and Coach Ambrose announced the names of the football and cross country team members who have earned their letters in the past season.

Football letter winners are Zig Baran, Bill Beadle, Bill Benner, Bill Bowring, Jim Christenson, Buzz Downey, Howard Dubin, Mike Garza, Chuck Godfrey, John Hilty, Tom Howling, Bill Kennedy, John Kingscott, Bill Kovachevsk, Mike Lawrie, Tom Marsh and Larry McKay.

Other letter winners are Bruce Miller, Jamie Miller, Jack Nelson, Bruce Pearn, John Phillips, Dick Rozek, Don Sawyer, Phil Schmitt, Jack Sights, Bill Smith, Rick Snyder, Bob Spinning, Rollie Starr, Randy Sullivan, Dick Swaney, Don Voelker and Cliff Wilson.

The team managers, Jim Werner, Bob Tomson and John Cameron also received their letters. Twenty-one runners on the Maple cross country team earned their letters this year. They are Scott Bradley, Mike Johnstone, Mike Branic, Neal Touran, Jim Lyneis,

THE NEGRO situation was the topic of discussion in many classrooms after John Howard Griffin, author of the controversial best-seller "Black Like Me," spoke to the entire student body Nov. 12.

Mr. Griffin spent a considerable amount of time in Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana and Georgia observing conditions as both a white man and a Negro. A series of medical treatments temporarily pigmented his skin.

Through this experiment he was able to explain the deplorable conditions which face the Negro today in the land where equality of opportunity is a main but seemingly distant goal.

To celebrate Thanksgiving Eve, Seaholm's Varsity club sponsored a semi-formal dance entitled "The Plymouth Rocker." The Oxford Five, winning band of the Combo Club, highlighted the occasion with their dance music.

The final competition for Aquabelles was held Nov. 11. The top 10 girls were chosen after weeks of preliminary try-outs. Comprising the list of 10 best girls are Kathy Kennedy, Liz Holmes, Jane Taylor, Sharon Anderson, Kris Firth, Kathy Burgam, Linda Hoyt, Cheryl Metcalfe, Judy Frederick and Cheryl McPherson.

ALTERNATES ARE Kathy Mott and Barb Mott. May 6, 7, and 8 are the scheduled dates for the Aquabelle presentation.

Senior Greg Bauman has been chosen by Wayne State University to attend a science symposium sponsored by the University. Mrs. Coach, SES biology teacher has also been chosen to participate in the program. Two hundred and twenty-five outstanding science teachers and students from the southeastern Michigan area will take part in this program Nov. 20 and 21.
