

DAC Is Setting For Holiday Meals

There are more and more families each year planning to "gather" at favorite clubs. The Detroit Athletic Club is among those that have come in for a fair share of family gatherings, enough, in fact, to keep the festive boards roaring all during the afternoon and early evening hours.

Among DACers with reservations from Bloomfield and Birmingham are J. Donald Orth, Guy C. Powell, William S. Pickett, Ralph Manuel, John T. Higgins,

DEBATOR
Julie Snelman, senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Snelman of 759 Lake Park, helped bring home Elmira Collette's first trophy in the debate field.

In addition, Julie was top of four speakers in four of her five matches, ranking second only in one match.

On Dec. 10-12, Julie will enter a debate tournament at Princeton, N.J. The tournament will be two-man, switch-side debate.

Arthur P. McWood and R. F. Byrne.
Carl W. Sundberg and Charles W. Anklam who will drive in from Farmington.

'Red Carpet' Treatment Given to Party Guests

By GLORIA JESSUP MA 6-3257

"They rolled out the red carpet" is an old cliché that was accomplished literally by the Gilbert Dittmers at their recent holiday party.

As the guests, about 75 in all, approached the Dittmers home on Thornbrier Way in Still Meadow, they stepped first on a red carpet and then onto an oriental rug which graced the front porch. Upon entering the house the guests visited with friends amidst melodies played by the organist and sipped champagne from the fountain.

On the more traditional side, the Dittmers welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawrence and family from Toledo for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Thanksgiving Day found many other Still Meadow residents and their children boarding two chartered buses to journey to Detroit for the Thanksgiving parade.

TONI HETH Miller, who will become the bride of Barrie Brooks Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Armstrong of Lane Lake Road, today was the honored guest at a recent party in the area.

Cohosting the combined luncheon and "House Beautiful" show were Mrs. Ted Macksey, Mrs. Charles Stillec and Mrs. Warren Wood, at the Macksey home on Wintlane Drive.

The 28 guests went from the parlor to the dining room, to the kitchen and to the bedroom and were seated to watch the opening of gifts for each particular room.

Antique coffee grinders filled with ivy decorated the U-shaped luncheon table. Centerpieces was a huge fruit bowl with gold hearts and two lovebirds with the names, Toni and Barrie.

As each guest departed they were given a cellophane umbrella filled with rice to carry to the wedding.

THE BLOOMFIELD Heights branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Angove on Cedar Bend Drive. Cohostesses were Mrs. Fred Eilber and Mrs. Leslie Holt.

The November meeting was held a week early, due to the holiday, at the home of Mrs. Harry Hood on Rison Court. Cohostesses were Mrs. Richard Harris and Mrs. Gordon Gideon.

Guest speaker was Mr. Thaduis Brykalski, art teacher from the Bloomfield Hills Junior High School.

The Bloomfield Heights branch had sponsored Mrs. Brykalski's trip to the conservation forum held at Higgins Lake recently.

Sohmer

Beethoven (at the piano) entertaining Mozart and friends

Mozart, like all other great composers was a pianist himself, and wrote his beautiful music especially for the piano. The piano is the basic musical instrument. Practically all music is created within the scope of the piano scale.

There is a great difference between the pianos of Mozart's day and the beautiful instruments of today. Many of the advances in piano tone and craftsmanship were invented and perfected by Sohmer. The Sohmer family has been building pianos of the finest quality since 1872.

And now, Sohmer presents 96% grand piano string distribution in their Musician's Console for a totally new and completely beautiful tone.
