First to Sign

Mrs. Warren E. Henderson (left) and Mrs. Leland Rosemont sign Rev. Jack Angerman of the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, to donate blood at the Blood Bank, being held at the church tomorrow from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. The Blood Bank is to assist in rebuilding the supply of blood for the entire community and anyone is welcome to donate. Blood obtained will be banked for future use by the donors, their families, or at donors request, transferred as blood credit through the National Red Cross to any hospital in the country.

CHARLES E. FEESE

Honor B'ham Resident at Loyalty Dinner

Charles E. Freese, Sr. was the honored guest at the Loyalty Dinner held recently at First Baptist Church on Southfield Road near 8 Mile. The dinner was held for members and friends of First Baptist Church to honor the capital funds campaign now under way under the direction of Rev. D. Ralph Nichols to make possible the erection of a new sanctuary and additional education classrooms.

Freese, a member of First Baptist since 1923, celebrated his 82nd birthday, Born Oct. 28, 1881, in Blissfield, Mich. Now retired, he was active in his own insurance business for more than 40 years.

A RESIDENT of Birmingham, 21200 W. 13 Mile, Freese has three children—a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Draper of Glendale, Calif., and two sons, Charles III and Lawrence, both of Birmingham.

Affectionately known to the younger set as "Cherab," Freese is by no means a "rocking chair grandpa." Friday nights find him bowling at Detroit Athletic Club where he is president of the Old Time Bowlers.

1st Presbyterian Stages 'Messiah'

The 100-voice Chancel Choir of First Presbyterian Church will present the 10th annual "Messiah" service on Sunday evening, at 8 p.m. The Christmas portion of this world famous oratorio will be sung by the choir and the following soloists: Carolyn Grimes, soprano; Alice Datcher, contralto; Kenneth Ish, tenor; and Annas Tiffany, bass. Mildred G. Ritter, associate organist, will appear as organist at this service and there will be a 15-piece orchestra with John Cataldo as concert master. L. Robert Slusser, Minister of Music, will conduct this work. A reception will follow the service in the social hall of the church. This sacred program is open to the public.

AFS Juniors Slate Holiday Workshop

Holly, mistletoe, pine cones and evergreen boughs are all essential to convey the holiday spirit, but problems may arise in the "how to" area home decorating during this season.

Now residents may learn the many imaginative uses of these items in home decorating after watching three demonstrations planned by the Junior organization of the American Field Service.

The group has scheduled three Christmas decoration workshops on Saturday, Dec. 12 at Detroit Country Day School from 1 to 4 p.m., with demonstrations beginning at 2 p.m.

TICKETS FOR the event will be $ available at the door or through Mrs. Robert Harris of Birmingham. Refreshments will be served. Demonstrators are Mrs. Norman Berry, Mrs. P. N. Askunas and Mrs. Robert Pokorny, all members of the Birmingham branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

Among items to be made are a brightly-colored "kissing ball," an imaginative cone tree, interestingly designed sashes of greenery and a variety of centerpieces and Christmas bows.

This is the first fund-raising project for the Junior AFS Club, which was organized last spring. Proceeds will be used in the student exchange program that provides a year of study and goodwill between Birmingham and other countries.

Happenings

nouncement of the move was made by George B. Storer, president of the company.

Church bells, strolling musicians, searchlights, free baby sitters and courtesy transportation will be among some of the features when the Birmingham merchants hold open house Monday evening. All local stores will be open from 7 to 10 p.m. for the first "Christmas Preview" ever held here. Persons from all sections of the city are invited to visit the business district, to be introduced to the many items which local stores will offer for Christmas shopping.

Playing under the worst weather conditions ever to prevail during a game in this long series, Birmingham lost the annual Turkey Day clash with Royal Oak, 19-0, before 6,000 snow-covered fans in the first jug game ever to be played in Royal Oak's new Memorial Field.

City Beat

School Educational Aide project, teaching English, math and science to both pupils and teachers.

He also coached basketball and was in a prize-winning chorus and folk dance program. Jenks put in an average of 80 hours per week while in the Philippines. Working on the island of Mindanao, he geared his efforts to getting the Filipinos to doing things for themselves rather than depending on him.

HE PERSUADED a lumber man to donate wood for a backboard and in recruiting basketball players insisted that they play at the school, which furnished the basketballs.

He insisted that the teams practice at and the games be played at the school. Thus, he not only succeeded in getting the people to the school grounds, but also got them interested in and working among themselves in community activities.

His stock reply when asked to do something was, "I will help you do it, but I will not do it for you." On his own time, Jenks managed to visit Hong Kong, Viet Nam, Taiwan and Japan. He is a walking advocate of a career in the Peace Corps.

The forties—wonderful but vulnerable years

The forties are rich and satisfying years for most women. Children are less demanding by then, allowing Mother more time to relax and enjoy herself. And since income is often higher many women can turn to personal interests they couldn't afford before.

At the same time they can be vulnerable years. A woman widowed in her forties needs a substantial income to keep the home going. If she doesn't have this income she'll have to go out to work. Probably the kind of work she was doing before she married.

But twenty years have gone by. The methods she remembers, the equipment she's familiar with—all will be vintage 1940. She'll discover she's competing for jobs with younger well trained people. Life will be a tough row to hoe.

One sure way to prevent this tragic readjustment is to invest in Manufacturers Life's permanent insurance. It combines family income protection with the advantages of a sound personal investment. Call the Man from Manufacturers and ask him to help you check whether you have enough permanent insurance for your current needs.
