

Fur—Real Way to Welcome the Holidays

Silhouette in Mink

Designer Arthur Schwartz proves a point: that the sumptuous mink coat can be done in a slender, fluid silhouette, a masterpiece of motion. His tapered wrap in Emba Morning Light for Fredrica emphasizes cut and tailoring that reflects the old world craftsmanship of the true fur workroom.

Fabulous Fox

The look is dramatic and luxurious for evenings at home, (or someone else's home) and then on to the wee hours on the town. To be worn with great assurance, Fredrica's red Kamchatka fox sleeveless hostess robe done lavishly and lovingly with vertical long bands and a luscious, huge, away-from-the neck collar.

Furr-y Real!

What (indeed!) could be more exciting, more lush than fur pants? Fredrica does the ultimate in at-home ensembles, combining dark ranch mink pants with a white mink overblouse, marvelous contrast, definitely daring, dramatic, different. Look no further for proof that originality is the keynote of the season. Fredrica fashions available in Birmingham at The Mary Helsing Shop.

Cuddle Coat

Affordable Luxury — Canary-colored natural Mongolian kit fox "cuddle" coat, designed by Lilly Dache for Wells-Treister's Fall and Winter 1964-65 fur collection. Closely wrapped to the body with a high-standing collar, the long-haired fur weaves itself into a dramatic horizontal pattern.

High School Driver Training Class

Wall driver school teen-age driver training class is held in the Birmingham area now on 12 Mile Road 1 block east of Coolidge at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Next class starts December 5 at 9:00 A.M. You may register at the class any Saturday 9 a.m.-11 a.m. information call 474-1430.

The class lasts six weeks and the cost is $50.00. There is a total of 30 hours of class and an average of 6 hours of road work. Wall driving school was the first to be authorized by the state and is proud in being the best in teaching class any Saturday 9 a.m.-11 a.m. high school students—for further information call 474-1430.
