4-H Group Investigates The Beetles

One group of 4-H Club members in the state definitely is for the beetles. The group is intensely interested in beetle sound effects, appearance and personal habits.

Some of the beetles light up at night. Others chew their way through potato crops or rugs. Then there's the beetle named June who makes a big noise at night banging off screen doors and windows. The 2 1/2 inch beetle, known as the June bug, called Rhinoceros, likes to set up house-keeping in rotted tree trunks.

And what does all this lead to? Membership in the national 4-H entomology program that annually enrolls well over 70,000 boys and girls.

THE BUG PROJECT calls for a curiosity to learn more about insects swarming around every home, farm and community. It also quickly teaches the scientific entomologists which are the "good" and "bad" guys of the vast insect world.

But it goes far beyond that, according to 17-year-old Ronnie Nolan of Union parish, La., who won national recognition last year for his work in the project.

"Bugs always interested me," said Ronnie. "Then one day an older friend, Tommy, asked me to help him hunt insects for his 4-H project. We brought our catch to his house where he had rigged up a laboratory. There I watched him identify, stretch and mount our catch."

Ronnie soon joined 4-H and started his own entomology project. "I knew it would be a great opportunity for me to learn more about bugs," he related. And he certainly did.

SINCE THEN Ronnie has made quite a name for himself among 4-H club members and with the sponsor of the program, the Hercules Powder Co. Friend Tommy majored in entomological sciences and became affiliated with a university as a researcher.

A Blair county, Pa., girl was another top-ranking member last year, winning a scholarship which she will use next year upon entering Pennsylvania State University. Judith Holland plans to major in entomology, a choice made as a result of her 4-H project. Her collection of more than a thousand insect specimens brought her a promise of a job in Penn State's entomological department.

She said: "This will be a tremendous aid for I can do extensive research while working my way through college." Her 4-H scholarship will help, too.

Talent Recruitment Under Way at MSU

The outlook for job-seeking graduates at Michigan State University continues to brighten, according to John D. Shingleton, director of MSU's Placement Bureau.

Shingleton reports that by next spring some 2,000 recruiters from public and private sources will have contacted about 11,000 interviews on the campus. And, he adds, all of the 5,300 student's seeking jobs through the bureau will receive at least one offer. Some, depending on their records and skills, will have as many as six or seven job offers.

S'field Post Office Has Job Openings

The Civil Service examination for employment at the Southfield Post Office is open for clerk or carrier positions.

Requirements are that the applicant be a resident of Southfield or Lathrup Village with an age limit of 18 years which is waived for high school graduates. Application forms are available at the Southfield office.

Starting salary is $2.48 per hour.

How to add a room...

without cooling off
the rest of the house

consider electric heat

The minute you try to heat a newly finished room, you place an extra burden on your existing heating system. There's a better way.

Give that new room its own heating system—a modern flameless electric heating system. It's clean. It's comfortable. It's perfectly controllable. You simply dial the heat you want and you get it, exactly, without stealing heat from the rest of the house.

How much will this modern way to heat cost to install and operate? That depends on your particular home. One thing sure, it won't cost you a cent to find out.

An Edison Heating Specialist will gladly come out to discuss equipment and cost of operation estimates with you. (It's amazing how accurate these estimates prove to be.)

There's no obligation, of course. Just give us a call.
