Antipoverty Act Sets New Corps For U.S. Youths

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz announced the establishment of the Neighborhood Youth Corps to carry out the work-training program for young people called for in the nation's anti-poverty legislation.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps will make it possible for impoverished youths 16 to 22 years of age to work at part-time jobs which will enable them to remain in or return to school, or to obtain work experience if they are out of school and unemployed.

The PRIMARY purpose of the corps is to help potential school dropouts gain meaningful work experience in their own communities. To accomplish this, the Labor Department, through the Neighborhood Youth Corps, will enter into contracts with non-Federal, governmental units and private non-profit organizations to employ eligible youths for socially useful work which otherwise would be neglected.
