Chicago Trip Follows Rites In St. Hugo

Janet Elizabeth Polk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lane Polk of Cranford, C., Bloomfield Hills, walked up the aisle of St. Hugo of the Hills at noon Friday to become the bride of Russell Snavely Read, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Brockway Read of Hammond Lake Drive, Pontiac.

The bridal robes were fashioned of silk alpaca designed with a square neckline, elbow-length sleeves and a controlled skirt applied with Alencon lace. The same lace accented a detachable chapel train.

A BAND OF MATCHING alpaca secured a fingertip veil of imported illusion trimmed in bol-luom lace which had been worn by the bride's great-grandmother, grandmother and mother on their wedding gowns. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of carnations, stephanotis and ivy.

The six attendants were dressed in identical floor-length gowns made with bell-shaped skirts of pink brocade topped by duchesse bodices cinched by matching cummerbunds. They wore duchesse velvet bows in their hair and carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and duchesse roses.

The group included Mary A. fleck of Bloomfield Hills, maid of honor; Mrs. Ralph L. Polk, Jr. of Bloomfield Hills, sister-in-law of the bride; Linda Brandt of Birmingham; Lynn Graebner of Neenah, Wis.; Sandy Corriere of Easton, Pa.; Benny Barnes of Washington, D.C.; and Sara Patterson of Darce, Conn., as flower girl.

Anniversary Plays Part In Ceremony

Susan Elizabeth Flint, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howland Flint of Island Lake, Bloomfield Hills, chose her parents' wedding anniversary as the date of her marriage to David Sanford Cooper, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edmond L. Cooper of Shirley Drive, Birmingham.

The couple repeated their vows at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Christ Church Cranbrook, after which a reception and supper were given at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

SUSAN WALKED up the aisle on the arm of her father, wearing a sheath silhouette gown of heavy white, Italian silk satin. Fashioned with a bouffant cathedral-length train, the gown featured a floral motif of pearls on lace, cat-shaped neckline and long, tapered sleeves of lace.

Her Madonna veil of French illusion fell from a Juliet cap of Alencon, and she carried a bouquet of white, fringed chrysanthemums. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls given to her by her parents.

Mrs. Marcus Eddy Cunningham, Jr. of Birmingham was the matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. John Bookwalter of Jamaica Plain, Mass.; Alice Joyce of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Herschel Post of Cambridge, Mass.; Mrs. Macon Traube and Mrs. Eiden Bowman, both of Birmingham.

They all wore floor-length, short-sleeved, empire gowns of orchid-lilac chiffon over matching satin sheaths. Their hats were curved Norman Norrell velvet bows in a deeper shade and they carried fringed chrysanthemums to match their dresses.

THOMAS COOPER was best man for his brother, and ushers included Gary Bannister of Stratford, Ont.; William Cornack of Princeton, N. J.; Eiden Bowman of Birmingham; David Theobald of Pittsburgh, Pa.; John Eshelman of Decatur, Ill.; Philip Andreas of Birmingham and Frederick Moore of St. Clair.

Following a trip through Canada, the couple will make their home in Birmingham.

Mrs. W. S. Chisholm Honored in Capital

A Bloomfield Village resident, Mrs. William S. Chisholm of 151 Overhill Road, was honored this week in Washington, D. C. at the British Embassy as she was made an honorary member of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire.

The appointment was made by Queen Elizabeth and the investiture of the honor was made last week by the English Ambassador to the United States.

This award was bestowed in recognition of outstanding services in the cause of Anglo-American friendship and understanding. Mrs. Chisholm has just completed a three-year term as Michigan president of Daughters of the British Empire.

Needlework Guild Aims for Members

A board of directors' meeting, Birmingham-Bloomfield Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, was held recently in the home of new president Mrs. George W. Davis of Pilgrim Road.

Mrs. Davis has been a devoted member of, and worker for, the Needlework Guild for many years. Her current project, with an assist from the board, is to make people more aware of Needlework Guild and the kind of job it does—this in an effort to increase membership.

ONLY MEMBERSHIP requirement is the donation of two new identical articles of clothing or a money contribution at the time of the yearly ingathering.

The success of the Oct. 13 Ingathering was reviewed at the meeting and distribution of the money contributed was determined. More was collected this year than ever before, enabling the board to increase the aid to the five agencies they help support: American Red Cross, Pontiac State Hospital, Oakland County Big Brothers, Children's Aid Society and the Family Service of Oakland County. These agencies also receive boxes of the new garments collected at the Ingathering, as do several other agencies. A President's Fund is held to be used at the discretion of the president for emergency aid.

BIRMINGHAM - Bloomfield Needlework Guild welcomes participation of the various area service groups. They can work on a project at meetings throughout the year to be ready for the Ingathering in October. The Guild invites all area women and local groups to become members. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. William Morrison, membership chairman.

Mrs. Pendracki was her sister's matron of honor, bridesmaids including her cousin, Mrs. William H. Thom of Birmingham; Nancy Wolf, Nancy Lowry, Janet Lyon and Elaine Stupceki, Michael Pendracki was ring bearer for his aunt.

The attendants were all dressed identically in emerald green velvet skirts—accented by self-covered buttons marching down the front—topped by bodices of matching chiffon designed with high, round collars and long sheer sleeves.

They wore Dior bows of matching velvetone with circle veils and carried cascade bouquets of chrysanthemums in the fall shades.

LT. (JG) JAMES LYON BONNER was his brother's best man, and seating the guests were James Hamilton, Howard Hoffman, William Burton, Carl A. Pendracki, Gilbert Lautenschlager and Joseph Whitsell, Jr.

Nancy Jean Jeffrey Weds John Bonner

Birmingham - Bloomfield was well represented at the marriage Friday evening of Nancy Jean Jeffrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leslie Jeffrey of Dayton, O., formerly of Pleasant Ridge, and John George Bonner, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Byron Bonner of Beverly Hills.

Nancy, who grew up in this area, is a niece of Robert G. Peters, Jr., of Birmingham and the late Mrs. Peters, and her sister and brother-in-law are Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Pendracki, also of Birmingham.

WEARING A GOWN of candlelight silk peau de soie, Nancy repeated her vows at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church of Royal Oak. Her empire style bridal outfit was made with a slim A-line skirt, full chapel train and a long-sleeved, hand-corded Alencon lace jacket heavily embroidered in crystals and pearls.

Spinsters' Ball Set For Local Collegians

Response of parents and students to the Annual College Ball has been so favorable since its inception three years ago, repeat performance is scheduled for Dec. 26 at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Only change in format is that this year's dinner dance is to be a Spinster's Ball rather than the Bachelors' Cotillon of former years.

Each gal must invite at least one guest-escort, boys will invite NO ONE. Sounds as if the tradition of the stag line is getting a great big boost—always making for a better party.

RESERVATIONS must be in by Dec. 12, limited only by legal restrictions on the club premises.

Patroness committee includes Mrs. Waldemar Adams, Mrs. Richard Anderson, Mrs. Maynard Andreae, Mrs. Robert Black, Mrs. John Cole, Mrs. Maxwell Peck, Mrs. Robert Green.

Others are co-chairmen Mrs. Ralph Getsinger and Mrs. John R. Livingston; Mrs. Robert Fife, decorator; Mrs. John Hopkin, Mrs. John Kerr, Mrs. William Lerchen, Mrs. Philip Maxwell, Mrs. Comberford McLoughlin, Mrs. Charles Neely, Mrs. Richard Nuffer.

Also assisting are Mrs. Joseph Page, Jr., Mrs. John Runsey, Mrs. Donald Shirreff, Mrs. Russell Strickland, Mrs. Burt Shirley, Mrs. George Squabb, Mrs. Wright Tisdale, Mrs. Ogden Vogt and Mrs. Richard Wallace.

Following a reception at the Detroit Golf Club, the newlyweds left on a month's trip to California. On their return, they will be at home in East Lansing.

Nursing Association Holds Country Sale

The Alumnae Association of the Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing holds its monthly meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the Clara Ford Nurses Home of the Henry Ford Hospital.

A "country store" sale will be held before and after the meeting. Dr. James T. Howell, assistant administrator of Henry Ford Hospital, will address the group.

Dr. Howell served on the recent President's Committee for Better Nursing legislation. Refreshments will be served following the program.

Fund Raisers at Work

Robert F. Manogz, immediate past president of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, who talked on her recent three-month tour visiting missions in Bengal, Orissa, Burma, Thailand, Hong Kong, the women who contributed time and effort toward making the Christmas Bazaar at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital a huge, money-making event for the Building Fund of the hospital. The threesome was in charge of the Gourmet Booth.

The holiday season traditionally sparks accelerated activity in the glamor dept., with parties ticked off social calendars at a rate guaranteed to leave local citizens clutching for tranquilizers. But it isn't all froth that keeps the merry-go-round whirling, for it's also the time of year when lots of emphasis is put on charitable and fund-raising projects.
