What to do when daughters are of driving age? Well... Dad could buy this sleek ivory Plymouth convertible for Christmas! (Mr. Hall may have to thumb a ride during "convertible season"). Even young Mark was impressed with the fine Plymouth Belvedere features as pointed out by Paul Herpolsheimer, Birmingham Chrysler's owner. (After all, a fella' has to keep up on the latest in cars... specially when he'll be driving in five years.) Mr. Herpolsheimer gave Mark a "hard sell" sales pitch... stressing the new engines available in '65 models, torsion-bar suspension, self-adjusting brakes, 3-speed automatic or "4-on-the-floor" transmissions... practically signed him up! Barbara spotted the good looks and manageability of this "stand-out-in-a-crowd" Plymouth. The attractive color-mated vinyl interior has the extra comfort of super foam seat cushions. Drop by... let Mr. Herpolsheimer show you how little it takes to park a Plymouth in your drive-way December 25th! Open Mon., Tues. and Thurs. 'til 9:00.

How does a woman go Christmas shopping for a saw for her "handyman" husband? It's easy. Just stop in and see the DeWalt Power Shop display at Erb-Restrick. Experienced salesmen are ready to demonstrate the "world's most wanted power tool," designed to give simplicity plus accuracy for all saw cuts. Mark Hall is very interested in this demonstration, by Clint Sieweke, of the unlimited flexibility of this "home work-shop." Here is truly a surprise gift a woman can buy! Model shown... #1400, 10-inch Power Shop... so valuable when you figure the cost saved on home repair or remodeling jobs. Elmo, and daughter, Barbara, discovered Erb-Restrick's easy-to-look-at wall paneling samples. (Each 1' x 8' sample sheet flips like pages in a book to aid in selection.) If a newly natched den or "re" room fits into your Christmas plans, you'll want to check every panel 'til you find the texture (rough? knotty? smooth?), hardness (fir? pine?) and color (soft beige? golden yellow? almost-black?) to blend with your decor. For your shopping convenience, hours 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily, 7:30-8:30 Fridays and 7:30-5:00 p.m. Saturdays.
