Initiate Great Books Program at Br. Rice

By JIM BODARY
Special Writer

The English Department at Brother Rice has just initiated the Great Books Program, which was such a success last year. This program is designed to give the students at Br. Rice and Marian the opportunity to express their views on certain books and to compare them to those of the faculty and guest moderators. Thirty-three Brother Rice students and 30 students from Marian take part in the discussions. Dr. Crane of the University of Detroit directed the first symposium on the book, "A Canticle for Leibowitz" last week. The 83 participants are now busy reading "King Lear," the next book to be discussed.

wear a black pep club shirt to the games and sit in a reserved section to cheer. The spirit at Brother Rice increased greatly last year with a successful basketball season, and the Rice Pep Club is now considered by many to be the finest in the Catholic Division. Bob Ringer, vice-president of the student council, is planning a pep rally for the Catholic Central game. This assembly will be directed by Pat Feehan, captain of the cheerleaders, who hopes to follow the team to a successful record.

MRS. MURPHY, a faculty member at Br. Rice, is now making plans for a model Senate, fashioned after the U.S. Senate, to be held here in the spring. This activity will afford Rice students with a chance to better understand their national government and the functions of the Senate. The Drama Club at Brother Rice, under the guidance of Br. Nash, is once again busy itself with the production of a play for the Christmas Assembly. Also in the works at the moment is the preparation for the City Genesis Reading Festival to be held at Rice this year.

UNDOUBTEDLY the largest activity at Brother Rice, the Pop Club, numbering 500 strong, is a vital part of the Rice athletic program. This organization has as its goal the continuance of a lively spirit to help carry our athletic teams through a winning season. Most students at Brother Rice support the teams by joining the Pep Club. Once a member, a student will
