Scheduled Delivery Brings Fast Service

A new "scheduled delivery" system now permits overnight delivery of ZIP coded parcel post five days a week between Birmingham and all post offices within a 25,000 square mile area of southern Michigan and northeastern Ohio, Postmaster Rollie Reese announced today.

The delivery area includes all of southern Michigan from the line Bay City-Mount Pleasant-Muskegon except the counties of Huron and Sanilac in the northeast and a portion of Berien County in the southwest; and, in Ohio, an eight-county area surrounding Toledo. This area includes over 560 post offices and more than 7,972,000 people.

Extensive testing has assured the success of this new program, which in effect offers "first rate service for fourth-class mail, according to Postmaster Reese.

MAILING DEADLINES for the service will be 5 p.m. in Birmingham, the time when the lobby windows close.

"The Post Office Department found through extensive study," Postmaster Reese said, "that one of the major problems of the parcel post service has been the lack of dependability of delivery.

For many mailers, it is often more important to know when a parcel is to be delivered than it is just to get it there in a hurry." For these reasons the Post Office Department developed the concept of scheduled delivery.

In the scheduled delivery area, parcels will be transported to the destination post office overnight and will be delivered to the addressee on the next scheduled parcel delivery.

In most cases this will mean next-day parcel service, Postmaster Reese explained, because parcel post deliveries are made on five days out of the week.

Car Dealers Stress Cities in Magazine

A new magazine that fits in the car glove box and tells the tourist just about everything he wants to know to enjoy his visit to a big city, is now being sent by Plymouth dealers across the country to their customers, friends and hometown libraries and schools.

The Plymouth Traveler, the monthly magazine of travel adventure, appears in a completely new dress and size in its December issue, featuring Houston Tex.—bold and beautiful, city of mink stoles, stetsons and high style. Each of the 10 issues per year is devoted to a different city.

In January, the Traveler is taking its readers to Boston. Other cities on the Travelers' itinerary in 1965 are Chicago, Denver, Cincinnati, and Los Angeles.

Civil Engineers Slate Meetings

"Water Levels of the Great Lakes" will be discussed by Ira M. Korkigian at the meeting today of the southeastern Michigan branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the Engineering Society of Detroit following a 6:30 dinner.

Korkigian, chief of special studies section of the hydraulics and hydrology branch of the United State Lake Survey, is a registered professional engineer and has had several scientific papers published in his field.

Special emphasis in his current employment with the Corps of Engineers is directed to solving engineering problems related to the development and utilization of the water resources of the Great Lakes system.

AT A RECENT ASCE Board of Directors meeting, the treasurer, C. E. Cutts, reported that 528 members of the Michigan Section have paid dues this year compared to 475 last year.

Henry W. Wallace of Ann Arbor announced that a technical seminar will be held Thursday, Dec. 17, by the Soil Mechanics and Foundations Committee at 8 p.m. at the Engineering Society of Detroit. Country Day Plans Informal Tea Series

Detroit Country Day School graduate Peter W. Williams, '61, currently a senior at Harvard University, has recently been named a winner of the nation's oldest scholastic award, the "Detur" of Harvard College.

A book award, it is provided for academic excellence through the charity of Edward Hopkins, a fund in existence since 1658.

Mr. Williams was awarded the Detur Prize for highest scholastic achievement for the years 1962-63 and 1963-64. Mr. Williams also is one of five Harvard seniors nominated for the Danforth Graduate Fellowship.

The Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo. will award approximately 120 four year fellowships in March of 1965 to students with "a serious interest in college teaching as a career."

Mr. Williams was an honor student at Country Day and a National Merit Scholar.

4-H Stresses Balanced Diet

Six out of 10 teenage girls have poor diets. Four out of 10 boys have deficient diets.

Over 50 per cent of the American boys and girls taking an international physical fitness test flunked it, compared to only 15 per cent of the European boys and girls.

The 4-H Club foods-nutrition program is designed to combat poor diets. It teaches teenagers that the choice of food they eat plays a big part in controlling how they look, feel and react.

AIDED BY county extension service agents and local club leaders, 4-H meal planners select menus on the basis of nutritional needs backed up by scientific facts.

The General Foods Corp., sponsor of the program, again this year awarded six $500 college scholarships to national winners in the project during the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

State winners received expense paid trips to Congress donated by General Foods. County winners receive gold filled medals.

4-H'ers who enroll in the program are urged to start with themselves to develop good nutritional habits.

Another phase of the project is to promote community awareness of good nutrition through window displays, posters and by speeches given over radio, television and to "live" audiences as well.

Of each dollar of disposable income, the average American spends less than one cent for prescription drugs.

Black-tie Revival Favored by Males

In large cities and small towns, throughout this country, there's been a strong trend to formal dressing. This isn't a new thing with the ladies who have liked donning their best bib-and-tucker at the drop of a tiara—while their mates were still resisting what was known in olden days as "the boiled shirt and strait-jacket!"

Today's comfort and color have changed that, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, Inc., and Mr. Man has actually grown to enjoy the completely different image that he presents when he gets out of his normal attire and gets togged-out in the most-flattering outfit yet conceived for the male.

Arbor Day was first observed in Nebraska.
