Mrs. Elwood Engel opened her Franklin Road home last Wednesday afternoon for a meeting of "Ikebana."

Nagiko Ito performed the "Chanoyu," or Japanese tea ceremony at the Engel home on Wednesday. Kim Obata, who is making her temporary home with the Engels while she studies in the United States, and Yoko Suzuki assisted Nagiko Ito with the ceremony. They were the guests.

Kim Obata and her sister, Yuki, also assisted Mrs. Engel in the preparation of the Japanese sukiyaki which Mrs. Engel served at a recent dinner party. The Engels gave for 40 guests.

MR. AND MRS. George H. Cary of Timberlake Road, Gilbert Lake, invited a large group of their friends for a Christmas brunch last Sunday afternoon.

The Birmingham Eccentric

BIRMINGHAM, MICHIGAN

DECEMBER 17, 1964

It has been said, very often through the centuries, that failure to quest for the TRUTH is bound to result in one's failure to progress toward a better environment for himself and those depending upon him (or her). Not that the quest always is destined to result in the actual finding... but rather that the habit of developing such pursuit becomes a pattern of thinking about many other important facets of the Good Life.
