Turners' Party Abounds With Storybook Characters

By GLORIA JESSUP
MA 6-3257

The fun began long before the party given by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Turner, Jr., at their home on Eldorado last Saturday evening. The fun began and the thinking caps went on when the invitations arrived.

The invitations read: "Come as a character out of a Christmas song, story or poem." Therefore the invited guests began planning their costumes for the scheduled affair.

Among the 18 "characters" were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Damskey dressed as night—with the "K." Mrs. Damskey chose as her theme "Silent Night." She was dressed completely in black with scattered stars, and unbelievably did not utter one word all evening. To assist her in this accomplishment she brought flash cards and when those didn't fit, she reverted to the use of charades.

MR. DAMSKEY wore a black costume with holes in it and he represented the song "Holy Night."

Combining the recent election with the Christmas theme, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Karbowski and Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Otterbein arrived with candles and Goodwater placards and serenaded in the front yard with "Oh Come All Ye Faithful" for the last remaining deidards with the Christmas spirit.

Jim McCrory came as the Fourth Wise Man while Mrs. McCrory was a musical success as "Jingle Bells."

There was an abundance of Christmas trees, each in an individual decoration. The host was the juggler from the Christmas story and the hostess represented "White Christmas."

Although it was only the 12th of December, every member of the Turner party was really with the holiday season.

ALSO IN the holiday spirit with the Christmas theme, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Karbowski and Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Otterbein arrived with candles and Goodwater placards and serenaded in the front yard with "Oh Come All Ye Faithful" for the last remaining deidards with the Christmas spirit.

The committee consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mullenhagen, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hoffman, the Hugh Robertsons, the Bob Gordens an Mayor and Mrs. Richard Cogger.

The Coggers invited their daughter and son-in-law, Pat and Ed Martin, to be their guests. The Ernie Coverdills were hosts to Laura and Bill Dimartin. The Pynnones, Jane and Don, were guests of the Jack Heaton's. The Gorden Hendersons were hosts to the John Englishes. Alice and Bob Sisson and Janet and Jim Dawson were guests of the club.

HOW ABOUT those people who send out invitations for a "Stamp Out Summer" party? As you may have guessed they are ski enthusiasts hoping for an early snowfall and the continuation of normal winter to insure skiing conditions.

One of our local skiers, Mrs. Howe, wife of Dr. Paul Howe, has plans for a short ski trip at Boyne Mountain and Boyne Highlands between Christmas and New Year's and come February she will take off for the slopes in Europe.

The most recent get-together of the skiers was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Howe on Northgate Drive Saturday evening when they entertained 18 for dinner.

Attending from the area were Dr. and Mrs. John Phardel, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Carlton and Mr. and Mrs. William Cameron. Following dinner the group viewed films taken at Sun Valley last February.

FIFTY MEMBERS of the Lathrup Players gathered at the E. D. Mansfield home on San Quentin Drive recently for a meeting and Christmas party.

Mrs. Tom Canan, Mrs. Vince Zattell and Mrs. Elmer Craig assisted Mrs. Mansfield as co-hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clark of Bainbridge Drive were hosts to Dr. Leonard Condit and daughter Julie of Burbank, Calif., over last week end.

Cadet Girl Scout Troop 75, consisting of 20 girls, spent a day at Camp Narrin near Clarkston, Mich., recently. The girls and their leader, Mrs. A. Jefferson Sharp and assistant leader, Mrs. Paul Howe, went hiking, tobogganing, and worked on merit badges.
