WALTER SELOVER (FROM LEFT), MRS. VINCENT HAYES AND W. J. MCCORTNEY

UF Associate Named

Walter C. Laidlaw of Bloomfield Hills, executive vice president of the United Foundation, has announced the appointment of Jacques Cousin as UF executive associate director.

At a press conference in the Detroit Press Club, Laidlaw said that Cousin's appointment would be effective Jan. 1.

Cousin at present is the executive director of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council, a Torch Drive agency. He has held that post for seven years.

DONALD PARSONS AND MRS. EDWARD K. POOR

The Bloomfield Tennis House, under construction on East Maple Road, seemed a little closer to being a real club instead of architect's drawings when the newly-signed members and guests were invited by the board to a cocktail party at the Birmingham Athletic Club. A large membership turned out Friday evening to meet the powers that be, and look over future competition on the courts. Scheduled for heavy winter use, the club's participants will undoubtedly filter back to other clubs for outside tennis during the warmer months. The five new tennis members above represent membership in Bloomfield Open Hunt, Birmingham Tennis Club, Orchard Lake Country Club, Pine Lake Country Club and Birmingham Athletic Club. Word is out that the non-tennis playing spouses are looking forward to relaxing in the sauna baths while their mates are relaxing in a hurry on the courts. It is rumored one membership was issued to someone who has no intention of ever playing tennis.

THE BARED AND THE BEAUTIFUL
HOLLYWOOD Vassarette.
Take the plunge and feel secure! The barest necessity for décollete necklines is Hollywood Vassarette's little wisp of a bra. Separate underwires hug the bosom—give a beautiful lift and spandex stretch straps that take all the action. The nylon lace vertical half-cups are edged in nylon marquisette which can be tucked back, allowing more open-ness. Come be personally fitted in Cotillion, style 4375, black or white, $5.95.

Penny Lambrose is back at the store to assist you in making your selections.
