Santa Wasn't First Down Chimney

By GLORIA JESSUP
MA 6-3257

It is standard procedure for Santa to come down the chimney. He is a welcome guest.

However, in the Vincent Sandercock home two nights before Christmas an unwelcome guest came down their chimney.

It was a nameless owl about 10 inches long.

Mrs. Sandercock and her children noted the owl behind the screen as they were about to go out to dinner. Feeling that the owl could not escape, into the house, they decided to wait until Mr. Sandercock returned home later that evening.

UPON ARRIVING home they found the visitor had indeed gotten into the house and had decided to take a little snooze on Elizabeth's bed.

When Mr. Sandercock returned home their new friend was perched on the curtain in the bedroom. Mr. Sandercock took him to the garage where the family laid out food and water and left the garage open enough so if the owl wanted to take flight it could.

As Mrs. Sandercock said:

"We didn't want the poor thing to die, but I didn't want it in the house either."

THE PATIENTS of Bloomfield Hospital had a happier Christmas due to the efforts of the members of the Bloomfield Heights branch, WNEGA.

The week before Christmas the ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Jerry Schwieser on Rison Court to decorate coffee cans and fill them with items useful to the patients.

This yearly project of the branch makes many otherwise forgotten people happy.

RANDS ROAD residents, Mr. and Mrs. John Atzelsan, entertained at a cocktail buffet last Saturday evening.

Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Rickard, Mr. and Mrs. Max Linder, the Chuck Theilmans, Roberta Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Movold, Mrs. Ginny Doud, Mrs. Doris Redman, George Chapman, Mrs. Gladys Welsh, Ray Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kovary.

Also entertaining on the 26th at a cocktail buffet were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobson of Pine Tree Trail. They welcomed about 38 guests.

New residents from Ridgewood N. Y. (as of October) Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pfahl of Lane Lake Road, Peabody Orchards, invited a few neighbors and friends into their new home last Sunday afternoon for cocktails.

MRS. HOWARD Schweppe of Shadow Lane opened her home Monday morning for the annual Mother and Daughter coffee of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Invited guests included all active members of the alumni from the Detroit and North Woodward areas.

Mrs. Paul Hykes, president of the Detroit alumni, came from Grosse Pointe and Mrs. Albert Baur, Jr., district president, of Birmingham, both attended and poured at the coffee table.

The committee assisting Mrs. Schweppe consisted of Mrs. Bliss Bowman, Mrs. Clifton Furguson and Mrs. Willard Robertson.

Mrs. Schweppe also entertained at a neighborhood coffee shortly before Christmas.

MR. AND MRS. George Rickard first time since 1876.

of Rands Road entertained on Tuesday evening at a combined dinner and bride party. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Albertson, the Rudy Zabels and the Ernest Clintons.

The Rickards have chosen Saturday for their open house. They have invited about 20 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cummski of Westwood Lane, Westwood Manor also chose Saturday for their holiday cocktail party.

MR. AND MRS. L. B. Bennett and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Young, spent the Christmas holiday with the Ward Robbins family of Hoyt Tower Drive, Knob Hill. The two couples returned to their respective homes on Sunday.

The Robbins are expecting about 30 to join them at a neighborhood New Year's Eve party this evening.

New Year's Day the William Thornleys of Keithdale, Lone Pine Village, will host their annual brunch for a few neighbors and friends.

MR. AND MRS. Joseph Tatusko and two-and-one-half-month-old daughter, Lisa Mary came from their home in Camillus, N. Y., to spend Christmas with Mrs. Tatusko's parents, the James Tilley of Thornbrier Way, Still Meadow.

"Drop in for Tom and Jerry's" was the invitation extended by Mr. and Mrs. Tilley to their Still Meadow neighbors for Sunday. The Tilleys expect about 50 to join them and climax the round of holiday parties.

South Carolina, in the recent election, went Republican for the first time since 1876.

Joins Roster of Brides-Elect

Janet Kay Saylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Saylor, Jr., of Canterbury Drive, Bloomfield Hills, is engaged to Daniel Braid Bronson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Bronson of Oxford. Both young people are graduates of Bloomfield Hills High School and both are currently attending Michigan State University, where the bride-elect is a member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority. The news was revealed at a family party in the Saylor home Dec. 27, when it was also announced that the couple is planning a June 19 wedding.
