Are you conscious enough of the fact that beneath the surface of the average person's existence, there are modes of happiness and enjoyment that far surpass the superficialities of one's daily routines? To be sure, today one cannot isolate himself from today's routines and many of them, even, are enjoyable. Yet, there are many untapped sources of inner joy and spiritual strength . . . waiting to be mined!

Holy Name Slates Double Style Show

Margi Franzel's shop on Woodward took on all the aspects of a day nursery last week as the sand box set modeled clothes from next door (Young Clothes) while their moms kept appointments for fittings. Both shops will participate when the women of Holy Name Church take their annual pre-Lenten fashion shows to Oakland Hills Country Club Feb. 10 and 11. First date will be a 12:30 p.m. luncheon; second, a 6:30 p.m. dinner dance. Dittrich of Detroit will show small furs.

Tickets are now on sale through the church guilds or (See STYLE SHOW, 2-CC)

Anniversary Celebrated On the Slopes

By MARTI CAHN

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Bullock celebrated their wedding anniversary Jan. 30 in Burlington, Vt. with daughter Marcy, a student at the University of Vermont.

Following two days in New York—business for Mr. B., and pleasure for Mrs. B. — the two joined Marcy for the week end. Father and daughter were eager to visit ski slopes at nearby Stowe. Mother's consent to join the family on the chair lift to the top was conditioned — she'd use the same transportation for safe return or wait it out on top 'til spring.

Tomorrow evening the Bullocks are entertaining at their Tibbury Road home at a cocktail and dinner party. Among those to be present are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Snelham, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kenneth Sanden, Mr. and Mrs. Paul O. Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Jolly.
