Play-Acting Becomes a Reality On Stage at Will-O-Way Theater

A theatrical husband and wife turned play-acting into reality Saturday, Connie Lee DesAutels and James Stevens Bennett, out their wedding cake on the stage where they first met at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre in Bloomfield Hills.

The dramatic students met last May 4, at try-outs for parts in the Will-O-Way summer production of Arthur Miller's "The Crucible." They were cast in the lead roles of John Proctor and his wife.

At noon Saturday, they spoke their real-life marriage vows at ceremonies presided over by the Rev. William Palmer at the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak. A dinner buffet and reception followed at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of the Raymond M. DesAutels of 5549 Shore Drive, Orchard Lake. Her husband's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Grant Stevens Bennett, 1691 Earlington, Beverly.

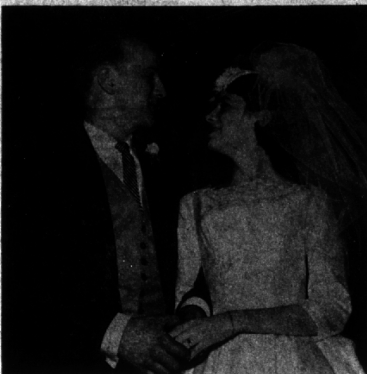

CONNIE HAS studied ballet for seven years and dramatics at Will-O-Way for two years. After graduation from West Bloomfield High School in June, 1963, she became receptionist at the dramatic trade school. She is now an employee of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Royal Oak. Jim became a student at Will-O-Way last spring, after playing dramatic roles with the Clarkson Village Players. He was graduated from University of Detroit High School, then attended Michigan State University, and is now a service man at Detroit Air Compressor Co., Ferndale.

Connie was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length gown of Italian silk with jeweled appliques, a Sabrina neckline and tapered long sleeves. A cap of jewel-appliqued silk leaves held her bouffant, shoulder-length veil.

She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid. Pamela Elynn of Farmington, a Will-O-Way classmate, was maid of honor. Charles Bennett was his brother's best man. Bridesmaids were Robin Turner of Bloomfield Hills and Sandra Brown of Orchard Lake, both Will-O-Way classmates of the couple. The groom's sister, 11-year-old Celia Bennett, was a junior bridesmaid. Cheri DesAutels, 9, was flower girl for her big sister.

The bride's attendants wore full-length turquoise satin. They wore matching bow headpieces and veiling and carried nosegays of pink roses, accented with white.

USHERS WERE William Rudnik of Hazel Park, Will-O-Way

classmate of the groom, and Duane Peck of Dearborn, associate director of Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre. The bride's 13-year-old brother Michael was a page.

For the reception, the bridal table, centered by the wedding cake, was set upon the stage, where the bridal party was seated for dinner. Guests were served from a buffet table below, where the audience is usually seated on folding chairs. The couple will make their home at 415 W. Fourth Street, Royal Oak. They will be returning to their dramatic studies at Will-O-Way, where both are rehearsing for the April production of "Pajama Game."

Eventually, Connie and Jim hope to continue their real-life drama on a stage in New York.

Looking Ahead

Mr. and Mrs. Owen E. Harvey of Solon, O., formerly of Birmingham, announce the engagement of their daughter, Norma Jean to Charles S. Peltz, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Peltz of Grosse Ile. A June wedding is planned.

Society Dept. deadline for all organizational news, weddings and engagements announcement is 5 p.m. on the Friday preceding Thursday publication.
