Trip to New York
Follows Ceremony

Following a wedding trip to New York City, Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Caputo will make their home in Birmingham. The bride, formerly Arlene Marie Shon, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Shon of Kalamazoo and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dominic S. Caputo of Pilgrim Road, Birmingham.

The couple spoke their marriage vows Saturday morning in St. Augustine Catholic Church, Kalamazoo, after which a reception was given in the Columbia Hotel.

THE BRIDE WORE a traditional gown of sheers, white velvet, the A-line skirt and elbow-length sleeves embellished in petals of lace. Her finger ring of illusion was secured to a tiny crown of pearls, and she carried miniature white roses on her mass. Misses.

Mrs. Thomas P. Day of Kalamazoo was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Karen, daughter of Leonard, Mich., and Nancy Biel and Judy Raduoso of Whiting, Ind. They were gown in blue crepe with satin over-skirts to the floor. They wore matching pill boxes and carried white carnations.

Delta Marie Siviland and Elizabeth Shon, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. They wore dresses of pale blue sashed in deeper blue, and tiny veiled hats.

Mrs. Shon greeted her guests at the reception in a jacket gown of gold silk brocade. Mrs. Caputo chose a cocktail-length gown of French blue. Both mothers wore orchids.

Mrs. Worrell Gives Us the Word

According to a note from Millie (Mrs. Frank) Worrell of Bell Vine Trail, Birmingham:

"Duchess is the keynote for members of the Saint Regis Parents' Club in their newest venture, variety show to be held at Berkshire Junior High School in April.

"Producers Jane and Bob Anderson are realizing a ten-year-old dream—that of putting a show together. They have drawn talent from the four corners of the parish, as was evidenced Feb. 2 at the trout party in the Birmingham Knights of Columbus building. A music major in college, a part-time piano teacher and a full-time mother and homemaker, Mrs. Anderson has found the intricacies of show business a challenge to her musical instincts.

"Astute business man Keith Blake took over the reins as master of ceremonies with the zeal and savageness of a professional. His quick wit surprised none of his friends, who have long been entertained by his backlog of wonderful stories and quips.

"THE REAL surprise came when sixteen brave young housewives abandoned their aprons for more appropriate attire to perform in several dance routines, which both delighted and captivated their audience. Under the able tutelage of choreographer Mrs. Sidney McKenna (a former ballerina herself), they have resurrected their proverbial tu. "Prevailed upon by an already large following, pert, petite Mrs. James Tuyn carried on in traditional show business fashion without the assistance of her ailing husband. Their act consists of impersonations and catchy comedy sketches. ZaZu Pitts and Ned Sparks came to life again, and Mac West never looked better.

"An excellent barber shop quartet good-naturedly competed against a bouncy and melodic beauty parlor double quartet. Their fine work brought appreciative smiles to the faces of their respective mentors: Robert Calhoun and Mrs. William O'Brien.

"The teenage segment was well represented by David Bostwick on the drums and Susan Budney doing a record pantomime on "Blame It On The Bossa Nova," proving that the younger set will not be outdone.

"FROM WHERE we sat, Mrs. Don Ross brought down the house with her French songs, piano and
